Firemen's festival Friday – Labor day

The Festival that the firemen of Arlington Heights have been talking about all summer starts Friday evening and will continue until midnight, Labor Day. The "free-eaters" are giving a lot of entertainment. In the first place there will be three evenings of dancing to Wally Hahnfeld's orchestra, admission for which is only 50c including tax. As added measure, every ticket participates in the drawing for $200 in prizes—worth while prizes, too.

Eight fire departments will compete in the evening water fights. Palatine will meet Barrington Friday night; Mt. Prospect vs Long Grove Saturday night; Lake Zurich vs Bensenville and Vernon vs Deerfield Saturday night. The winners of the three nights will fight it out in the finals on Monday evening.

Red Wings will play two ball games. On Sunday they will meet Sycamore and on Monday afternoon their opponents will be Admiral Radio. There will be just as much interest, however, in the All Star Cub championship game to be played at six o'clock Sunday evening.

All of the usual festival attractions will be on the grounds. The firemen guarantee the public a good time.

Cub scout All Star game Sunday evening

The Cub Scouts of Arlington Heights have had a great soft ball season which will end Sunday evening when the much talked-about championship game between two all-star teams will be played at Recreation Park at six o'clock.

The two coaches, L. T. McAuliffe and Al Meyers are as excited as the boys themselves who have been chosen as members of the two teams. They have each been giving their teams some snappy workouts and scouts report to the Herald that it will take the final run to determine the winner.

The game has been well advertised and all friends of scouting have the opportunity to show by their presence that they are with the boys. The oldest baseball fan in town will get as big a kick out of the game as the youngest player.

Chuck Revenaugh will handle the microphone, giving all the high lights of the game. The umpires will be Martin W. Freeman at the plate, C. W. Jones at first base, Frank Havranek at third base. The young fellows say the importance of the game is proven by the number of the umpires—which they say is none too many.

The lineups are:

Patronize firemen says Mayor Goedke

"As mayor of Arlington Heights, I am asking the people of our community to patronize the firemen's festival the coming week end. Those boys do a lot for our community and the festival gives us the opportunity to do something for them. Let us make this year's event the biggest in its history," is the message that Mayor Goedke asks the Herald to broadcast this week.

Two features omitted this week

Due to extra space needed for school announcements in this issue, two popular features, "Just Around the Corner" and "Way Back When" are omited this week.

Saving waste paper helps to save lives

Waste paper is the only available material for making blood plasma boxes, ammunition containers, sun helmets, parachute flares and plane wing tips for our fighting men. Save every ounce of yours, tie it up, put it on the curb early Saturday, September 9, for Chicago's greatest collection of America's No. 1 critical war material shortage. Be a practical patriot.

H. S. teaching corps near completion

Supt. M. F. Egdorf of the Arlington Heights high school feels like the school boy who takes his seat just as the tardy bell rings. A week ago there were four vacancies to be filled in the teaching corps. As the Herald goes to press there is only one to be filled and that "is in the bag", thinks Mr. Egdorf.

Students who were looking forward to teacherless recitation rooms are going to be disappointed.

The latest teachers to be placed under contract are:

Mr. Leonard J. Brown of Palatine, Ill., is teaching chemistry and aeronautics. He is a graduate of the State Teachers College at DeKalb, Illinois. He has a bachelors degree in science. He taught science in Crete and DesPlaines and for the last two years he has been teaching in the navy radio course at Northwestern University.

Miss Alice Eikenberry of Paw Paw, Michigan, who replaces Miss Virginia Taylor as American history instructor has a bachelor degree from Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls, Iowa, a master's degree from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, and additional graduate work at Northwestern.

Her teaching experiences are teaching the high schools in Iowa and for the past two years she has been supervisor of social science teachers in the training school for Western Michigan State College.

Mr. John J. Bowen of Chicago, Ill., is to teach biology. He has his bachelor degree from Chicago teachers college and has done graduate work at the U. of Chicago. He had taught at Zion, Ill., in high school and in Chicago Public schools.

Patrons and parents are reminded that the school will be open on Friday evening, Sept. 1, for those desiring to visit the school at that time. No program is planned for that evening. The student handbooks of information recently prepared will be distributed to all persons desiring a copy at that time.

St. James school reopens Sept. 6th

St. James school will reopen September 6th. Registration began August 27th and will continue until September 3rd. All pupils are expected to register before the opening of school. The entire school building is in first class condition and each class room is attractively decorated.

Sister Rosewitha from Colorado Springs replaces Sister Brendam, who is teaching in a school for Negroes in Yazoo City, Miss. Sister Boromea from Milwaukee, Wis., replaces Sister Ercola, who is now teaching in Chicago.

Let School Bells Ring

Hats off to American boys and girls! They have shown superb readiness and eagerness to share in the work of the war.

They have sold bonds and stamps, gather scrap of all kinds, have taken full time and part time jobs on top of school work.

Now the time has come when all of us must scrutinize far more carefully then we have in the first 3 years of the war the use that is being made of the capacities, energies, and time of our teen-age young people. More than ever we need to realize ourselves and make vivid to our boys and girls the immense importance to them and to the Nation of school.

Every American boy and girl needs the best education and training the Nation can provide. Both for the children themselves and for the future of our country, more high school training than ever before is needed. Education is the key to the future.

We know the value of training and study. We know how much modern wars depend on scientific knowledge. We know how much a lasting peace will depend on intelligent and trained minds. We know how much a nation owes to the sound minds of its citizens. As a Nation, we believe that our children should be wiser, abler and more successful people than we are. We know our schools can help them to become so.

It is hard at any age to measure the long-time value of education and for young people it is especially hard. Boys and girls need help in understanding the importance of preparation for the post-war world, when competition for jobs will be keener than ever; when many new skills and much greater flexibility in adjusting to changes will be required; when everybody will need to know more about the world than people knew before the war if they are to be effective citizens. It takes training to keep pace with the great advances in skills going on now in wartime. There'll be even more when the war is won.

Men in the services know how valuable schooling is; even at the end of a hard days work many of them go to school. If a fighter has need for study, our youth now have a need for it.

To give up a job in September and return to school may mean a temporary sacrifice of income. It may seem to mean sacrificing work essential to the war. But your "battle station" is in school. Your Nation asks that you return to your post of duty in high school and stay by it until you have finished the job.

To those lured by "big money": Maybe that job you are holding now does look big. But how big will it look 5 years from now? Does it really give you a chance to go ahead? How fast can you go ahead on it?

To those who want to help the Nation: "Here's what the War Manpower Commission says: 'The first responsibility and obligation of youth under 18, even in wartime, is to take full advantage of their educational opportunities in order to prepare themselves for war and postwar services and for the duties of citizenship . . . In most cases, youth under 18 can best contribute to the war program by continuing in school and, when their services are required, by accepting vacation and part time employment.' Your No. 1 war work is school work. Keep it up."

To those who will soon be of military age and just want to kill time until then: "You'd despise anyone who shortchanged Uncle Sam, wouldn't you? For military service Uncle Sam needs trained men, men who have had sound, basic education, men who can take responsibility and leadership. When you take time out from school, when you fail to get sound, basic training, aren't you doing the very thing you despise? Get set for service. Go to School."

To those who think that school is not worth while: "Maybe it is hard for you to see just how school can help you, but ask some of the boys in service who didn't finish school, and see what they say. Lots of them wish they had had more school before they joined up. You might ask yourself a question, too: Is it school, or you, that is at fault? Have you honestly tried to get everything out of school you could get? How about talking your problems over with the school principal. Get more out of school by putting more into it."

The war is not going to last forever, whatever you think. Peace-time and wartime are different. It would be nice if someone could tell you for sure just what your world will be like when the war is over. Nobody can. But one thing is sure: the world you live in is going to be a more complicated place than it was before the war. Great advances and changes are taking place right now. There will be more after the war. You'll need all the education and training you can get for the postwar world. And school's the place to get it. Get set for tomorrow. Go to school."

The best place for you to get ready for tomorrow is in high school. The Army and Navy want boys and girls to complete their high school education before joining the services. The War Manpower Commission says schooling comes first.

Let's all start to school this fall that should be there.

Loss of blood causes death of young child

Bonita Louise Arnold, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Arnold, of the Shanley farm, Dundee road, died in the Elmhurst hospital Monday evening four hours after she had cut an artery of her leg. She had returned to the farm with her mother after a trip to Arlington Heights. Her mother heard her scream and rushing outdoors discovered that her daughter had been severely cut. The little girl was rushed to a doctor's office and an ambulance took her to the Elmhurst hospital. Her father submitted to a blood transfusion.

Funeral services are being held at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon with interment in Ridgewood. She leaves besides her parents, two sisters, Mary Ann and Darleen.

Arlington boy to appear Sunday on radio hour

Dick Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Everett, 503 North Haddow, will appear as one of the contestants in the Maurice B. Sachs amateur hour on Sunday, September 3, at 12:30 p. m.

Dick is well known around Arlington Heights for his splendid work as a musician. He is staff pianist for the Methodist Sunday school and assistant organist of the Methodist church. His father, Jack Everett, is also director of music for the Methodist church.

As it will be impossible for him to contact his many friends personally Dick has asked the Herald to inform his friends of the broadcast and any votes that he may receive will be greatly appreciated.

The winner of the contest will receive $75.00 in cash and a beautiful wrist watch.

The broadcast will start at 12:30 p. m. and is heard over radio stations WENR and WCFL.

Votes may be telephoned in by calling the National Broadcasting company, Biue network, or by mail. All votes by mail should be in by Wednesday, September 6.

Sgt Wm Langhorst of Arlington Heights wounded in France

Word was received the past week of Bill Langhorst of Arlington Heights who suffered wounds in France August 10. Official notice reached his mother, Mrs. Anna Langhorst, 115 S. Walnut street, Tuesday morning. Bill had previously wired and written her about his wounds.

Sgt. Langhorst is believed to have been in France only about two weeks when he suffered his wounds. Details of the injury are not known. But Bill did write that he was in an English hospital, receiving the best of care, and that the doctors had told him he would have to stay off his feet for some time.

Sgt. Langhorst entered service in September, 1942, reporting to Camp Grant. His infantry training included Livingston, Louisiana, Gordon, Florida, and Pickett, Virginia. He went overseas in November of '43.

LAST CALL FOR BLOOD BANK

A message to Douglas workers

We have been informed that many employees of the Douglas plant are withholding their blood bank appointments in the belief that the mobile unit will visit the Douglas plant in the near future.

The committee is reliably advised by the Chicago chapter that the schedule for this year is filled and that no provision has been made for the unit to visit the Douglas plant.

Since more than 10 weeks have elapsed since donations were last received at the plant, and it will be at least 16 weeks before the schedule will permit another appointment, all employees of the Douglas plant residing in this area whose working hours permit are urged to register for donations at Arlington Heights Friday and Saturday, September 8 and 9.

Union demands cost Arlington an industry

Arlington Heights has lost an industry, the Pet Milk Company. A payroll averaging between $4,000 and $4,500 a month ends and a number of truck operators must hunt new jobs. That is the net result of the recent strike, called by the Milk Wagon Drivers Union, which gained jurisdiction when four of the seven truck drivers voted that the union act as their bargaining agent. A previous election had been a tie.

The Pet Milk Company, a national organization decided to close out the fluid milk business handled through the Arlington Heights plant rather than pay the men the commission that the union asked. The company charged that the payment of the commission would have raised the salaries of their truck drivers from $500.00 to $1.000.00 a month, depending on the size of the truck. The union countered with a demand that the loads and hours be reduced. They also claimed that other firms were paying the commissions asked of Pet Milk.

The closing of the local plant will be felt by its former local employees, and the business interests as a large part of its pay roll was spent locally.

Besides the eleven (11) people in Arlington Heights, some 25 men at the Company plant at North Prairie will be forced to find employment elsewhere.

John Randag came to Arlington in 1936 in the interest of the Pet Milk Company. It was through his busines acumen that the business handled through Arlington became of large proportions — so large that the firm had considered the erection of a large plant in this vicinity.

Mr. Randag has been active in local civic affairs and is an officer of the Lions Club. His present plans are not definite.

Band instruments needed for both Arlington schools

For over two years it has been difficult to secure musical instruments, partly because they are constructed of brass which is very vital to the war work, and also practically all new instruments in dealer's hands were taken to supply the great demands for army and navy bands.

The supply of used horns is now low and all who have a band or orchestra instrument that might be put into use either in the grade school or high school, are urged to phone the band director, Don Costain, at 1532 if they wish to sell it or rent.

White wool slip over sweaters are part of the band uniform, and are also difficult to obtain. It will be appreciated if anyone has a sweater of this description to also call the above number if they wish to sell it.

Both high school and grade school band members are urged to check over their instruments now, and have them in good shape for the opening of school next week.

Holiday mail service Monday

Next Monday is Labor Day and holiday mail service will be in effect. There will be one early morning collection of mail, and outgoing mail will close at the postoffice at eleven o'clock. There will be no window service. Lobby will be open for drop mail until eleven.

Full time job open at postoffice

There is a full time, eight hours a day job open at the Arlington Heights postoffice. The exact work that will be required depends upon the ability of the applicant. Inquire at the postoffice for details.

As in the past when there has been an opportunity to serve, the people of Arlington Heights and the surrounding area are responding magnificently to the call for blood plasma.

But our quota is high and there are still openings for more donors.

From the blood collected by the Red Cross, 12 of America's leading laboratories process blood plasma or serum albumin. Plasma is the liquid part of the blood and serum albumin a protein solution from the plasma which is used in submarines, paratroopers kits and other places where space is at a premium. These two medical miracles are saving the lives of American fighting men in every theatre of the war. They have been described by the surgeon general as the foremost life savers in the war.

You can become a part of this story of lives saved. And your part of the story is a lot easier than the receiving end. In 45 minutes, without pain or discomfort, you can become a life saver. All you have to do is visit the Field house in Arlington Heights Friday or Saturday, September 8 or 9.

You will be given an examination to determine whether or not you should donate. The donation itself is painless, takes only a few minutes. Then to the canteen for refreshments and after a brief rest you can go on about whatever you were doing.

Any person in normal health between the ages of 18 and 60 weighing 110 pounds or over can be a blood donor. It is the most direct way in which we can back up our men at the front.

A pint of your blood, a few minutes of your time, can save a soldier's life.

Put your name on the honor roll.

Register today with your employer, your church, the organization to which you belong, or any of the following people:

Season ends for Arlington golf league

At a meeting held Tuesday, August 29, after the last matches for the 1944 season at the Mt. Prospect Country club, the members of the Arlington Heights Twilight golf league elected officers and discussed rules for the 1945 season.

Officers elected were: President, Arthur Franzen; Vice-president, Leonard Dunteman; Secretary and Treasurer, Clarence Baily; Membership and Rules committee, Tilford Foy, Pat Kelly, Dick Wilke and C. H. Doellfield.

The membership and rules committee is putting on drive for new members which is to be waged during the winter months. They also are investigating the possibility of changing the night of league play so that it will not conflict with the meetings of the Lions club which are also held on Tuesdays. It is thought that through this change any Arlington men, who are members of the Lions club, will also be enabled to enjoy the fun and recreation of playing in this league.

It was decided by popular vote to accept the gracious invitation of the Des Plaines and Mt. Prospect golf leagues to join them in a gala dinner dance to be held at the Mt. Prospect Country club on Saturday, September 9, with paid up league members being admitted at the expense of the league. There will be an additional charge of $1.35 for each guest. It is hoped at this time to also announce the awards to the sponsors and members of the team finishing the league race in first, second and third places.

An entertainment committee to be appointed at a future meeting to plan parties, a dance or two "we hope" and golf matches both straight and cockeyed, which will add to the enjoyment of each and every member.

Team standings at the close of the 1944 season were: First, Arlington Elevator and Coal; second, Park Lane Laundry; third, Prospect Heights Service station; fourth, Dunteman Dairy; fifth, Arlington National bank; sixth, Webber Paint seventh, Lauterburg and Oehler; eighth, Sieburg Drug store. The league wishes to thank Harold Willson for his help and consideration throughout this entire 1944 season.

Waste paper is war paper

Send your paper to war, to make blood plasma boxes, shell containers, waterproof clothing, ration kits, plane wing tips. Save paper to save lives. Put your bundles on the curb early Saturday, September 9. Trucks will pick them up and start them to their important part in supporting our fighting men and women.

City-wide pickup Saturday, Sept. 9

You can save a life next week

350 more blood bank donors are needed if the quota of 500 is to be reached. The Red Cross blood bank is coming to Arlington Heights next week on the assumption that there will be 500 donors. There are not yet 150.

Voluntary registrations are few. Tuesday night only one person who attended the show at Arlington Theatre volunteered. Volunteer donors from manufacturing plants are fewer than last time.

The blood bank is not for Arlington Heights alone, but for all northwest Cook County. Mothers, sisters, fathers, brothers, aunts and uncles of the boys on the fighting fronts! Your boy is there. He may need Plasma to save his life. How about it? See accompanying article how to register.

Save a life next week by donating your blood. Register at once. The list must be completed by Friday evening.

Pool closes after most successful season in years

Arlington Heights swimming pool closes this Thursday evening after the most successful season in recent years. The weather and freedom from contagion scares are credited for nearly double the number of swimmers of any season. The increase in swim does not mean increase profits as due to the manpower situation the weekly costs of the pool have been high.

The closing of the pool two days earlier than announced in the Herald last week is due to the fact that many of the supplies needed in operating the pool have been exhausted. The increased business used up the reserve supplies. Rather than operate without sufficient bromine for purifying the water, the shut-down was ordered.

Two Chicago boys who came out to Arlington on their bikes to patronize the pool discovered that "no bike riding in the park" is being enforced. They were booked and their bikes were held in lieu of bonds. They had been previously warned by Mr. Mueller not to ride their bicycles within the park.

To hold evening registration hours

Helena Busse, Arlington Heights village clerk announces that she will hold evening office hours for registration of residents who have changed their address. The hours are seven to nine. The dates are September 14, 15 and 16. (9-15

Final announcement grade school opening

The Arlington Heights public elementary schools will open on Tuesday, September 5, at 9:00 a. m., the board of education announced today.

Superintendent R. E. Clabaugh stated that there will be a complete morning session for all classes on September 5, including morning kindergarten, with no school in the afternoon of the first day except for the afternoon kindergarten group.

Children entering the schools for the first time this year who find it impossible to enroli at the superintendent's office in the North school before September 5 should report to the principal's office in their building before going to their classroom. This includes kindergarten children not already registered.

Children five years old on or before December 2, 1944, are eligible for kindergarten. Those who were five years old before June 2, 1944, will make up the afternoon group and should report at 1:00 p. m., September 5, with the remaining pupils assigned to the morning session and reporting at 9:00 a. m. on September 5. Children six years old on or before February 1, 1944, are eligible for first grade.

Children transferring from other systems should present their transfers at the time of registration. Children not previously enrolled in any other elementary school must present a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, or some other acceptable verification of the date of birth at the time of registration.

The Northwestern railroad tracks serve as the dividing line between the North and South schools, with all pupils in the kindergarten and seventh and eighth grades attending the North school.

Cafeteria and Rentals

The cafeteria at the North school will open Wednesday, September 6, with Mrs. Lillian Mitzlaff in charge. Children at both schools are expected to go home for lunch if at all possible. Provision will be made at the South school for the supervision of those children who must carry their lunch.

The rental system will continue to provide children with textbooks and materials at a minimum cost. The fees charged will include the use of materials consumed in regular classroom work, with the exception of pens, pencils, scratch paper, etc. The materials for projects in manual training and domestic science which become the property of the children when finished, will be paid for by the individual student.

Rental fees for all grades will be the same as last year and will be as follows: Grades first through fourth, $2.00. fifth and sixth, $2.50; seventh and eighth, $3.00. Rental fees are established on the basis of the total cost of consumable books, such as workbooks, plus one-fourth of the cost of textbooks used more than one year.

Tuition rates for those children residing in other elementary school districts and admitted to the schools by the board of education have been established at $10.00 per month for one child in a family and $7.00 for each additional child in the family. Tuition is payable monthly in advance at the North school office of the superintendent.

Lutheran school opens Tuesday

St. Peter Lutheran school will open its doors to the new school year on September 5 at 9 a. m. A special divine service in the church will mark the opening. Everyone is cordially invited to this service at 9 a. m.

Indications point to a large enrollment in the kindergarten and first grade. Mrs. Paul Weinrich will teach the kindergarten. If the enrollment is too large, two sessions will be held, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Should this not be necessary, the kindergarten will meet in the annex from 9:00 to 12:00 in the morning.

Miss Ruth Wilkens will take charge of the first grade. Miss Wilkens comes to Arlington Heights from Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mr. Wessler, of Chicago, who was called recently to take over the second grade, has, at this writing, not indicated whether he will accept the position or not. In the event he decides to remain in Chicago, a temporary teacher will be available for this grade.

The teaching positions in the remaining grades will continue as last year:

Mr. H. E. Burger—Grade III.
Mr. K. L. Busse—Grade IV.
Mr. Theo. Preuss—Grade V-VI.
Mr. O. Kolb—Grade VII.
Mr. A. W. Bathje—Grade VIII.

The upper grades will again be departmentalized.

In grades 3-8 all secular textbooks will be handled on a rental basis as in other years. Children will purchase their own pencils and paper. Religious textbooks must also be purchased by the children.

Children entering kindergarten must be 5 years old by December 1. Those entering first grade will be accepted this year if they reach their sixth birthday on or before February 1.

St. Peter Lutheran school is observing its 80th anniversary this year. This unusual event will be recognized by special programs during Lutheran Education Week in October.

St. Peter Lutheran School offers its facilities to any parents who are interested in an excellent Christian training for their children. Parents, who are not members of St. Peter Lutheran Church, pay a nominal tuition fee per child.

The Geisen Bus Co. will again provide transportation for those children living in the Rand-Palatine-Hinz Road area, as well as for those coming from Prospect Heights. The bus will operate on the same schedule as last year.

Mr. Pelletier, our janitor, has done a marvelous job of reconditioning classrooms and hallways. Floors and walls are sparkling and inviting.

Anyone desiring more information about the school is urged to call the principal at 1382-M or the pastor at 256.

The game has been well advertised and all friends of scouting have the opportunity to show by their presence that they are with the boys. The oldest baseball fan in town will get as big a kick out of the game as the youngest player.

Chuck Revenaugh will handle the microphone, giving all the high lights of the game. The umpires will be Martin W. Freeman at the plate, C. W. Jones at first base, Frank Havranek at third base. The young fellows say the importance of the game is proven by the number of the umpires—which they say is none too many.

The lineups are:

Patronize firemen says Mayor Goedke

"As mayor of Arlington Heights, I am asking the people of our community to patronize the firemen's festival the coming week end. Those boys do a lot for our community and the festival gives us the opportunity to do something for them. Let us make this year's event the biggest in its history," is the message that Mayor Goedke asks the Herald to broadcast this week.

Two features omitted this week

Due to extra space needed for school announcements in this issue, two popular features, "Just Around the Corner" and "Way Back When" are omited this week.

Saving waste paper helps to save lives

Waste paper is the only available material for making blood plasma boxes, ammunition containers, sun helmets, parachute flares and plane wing tips for our fighting men. Save every ounce of yours, tie it up, put it on the curb early Saturday, September 9, for Chicago's greatest collection of America's No. 1 critical war material shortage. Be a practical patriot.

H. S. teaching corps near completion

Supt. M. F. Egdorf of the Arlington Heights high school feels like the school boy who takes his seat just as the tardy bell rings. A week ago there were four vacancies to be filled in the teaching corps. As the Herald goes to press there is only one to be filled and that "is in the bag", thinks Mr. Egdorf.

Students who were looking forward to teacherless recitation rooms are going to be disappointed.

The latest teachers to be placed under contract are:

Mr. Leonard J. Brown of Palatine, Ill., is teaching chemistry and aeronautics. He is a graduate of the State Teachers College at DeKalb, Illinois. He has a bachelors degree in science. He taught science in Crete and DesPlaines and for the last two years he has been teaching in the navy radio course at Northwestern University.

Miss Alice Eikenberry of Paw Paw, Michigan, who replaces Miss Virginia Taylor as American history instructor has a bachelor degree from Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls, Iowa, a master's degree from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, and additional graduate work at Northwestern.

Her teaching experiences are teaching the high schools in Iowa and for the past two years she has been supervisor of social science teachers in the training school for Western Michigan State College.

Mr. John J. Bowen of Chicago, Ill., is to teach biology. He has his bachelor degree from Chicago teachers college and has done graduate work at the U. of Chicago. He had taught at Zion, Ill., in high school and in Chicago Public schools.

St. James school will reopen September 6th. Registration began August 27th and will continue until September 3rd. All pupils are expected to register before the opening of school. The entire school building is in first class condition and each class room is attractively decorated.

Sister Rosewitha from Colorado Springs replaces Sister Brendam, who is teaching in a school for Negroes in Yazoo City, Miss. Sister Boromea from Milwaukee, Wis., replaces Sister Ercola, who is now teaching in Chicago.

Let School Bells Ring

Hats off to American boys and girls! They have shown superb readiness and eagerness to share in the work of the war.

They have sold bonds and stamps, gather scrap of all kinds, have taken full time and part time jobs on top of school work.

Now the time has come when all of us must scrutinize far more carefully then we have in the first 3 years of the war the use that is being made of the capacities, energies, and time of our teen-age young people. More than ever we need to realize ourselves and make vivid to our boys and girls the immense importance to them and to the Nation of school.

Every American boy and girl needs the best education and training the Nation can provide. Both for the children themselves and for the future of our country, more high school training than ever before is needed. Education is the key to the future.

We know the value of training and study. We know how much modern wars depend on scientific knowledge. We know how much a lasting peace will depend on intelligent and trained minds. We know how much a nation owes to the sound minds of its citizens. As a Nation, we believe that our children should be wiser, abler and more successful people than we are. We know our schools can help them to become so.

It is hard at any age to measure the long-time value of education and for young people it is especially hard. Boys and girls need help in understanding the importance of preparation for the post-war world, when competition for jobs will be keener than ever; when many new skills and much greater flexibility in adjusting to changes will be required; when everybody will need to know more about the world than people knew before the war if they are to be effective citizens. It takes training to keep pace with the great advances in skills going on now in wartime. There'll be even more when the war is won.

Men in the services know how valuable schooling is; even at the end of a hard days work many of them go to school. If a fighter has need for study, our youth now have a need for it.

To give up a job in September and return to school may mean a temporary sacrifice of income. It may seem to mean sacrificing work essential to the war. But your "battle station" is in school. Your Nation asks that you return to your post of duty in high school and stay by it until you have finished the job.

To those lured by "big money": Maybe that job you are holding now does look big. But how big will it look 5 years from now? Does it really give you a chance to go ahead? How fast can you go ahead on it?

To those who want to help the Nation: "Here's what the War Manpower Commission says: 'The first responsibility and obligation of youth under 18, even in wartime, is to take full advantage of their educational opportunities in order to prepare themselves for war and postwar services and for the duties of citizenship . . . In most cases, youth under 18 can best contribute to the war program by continuing in school and, when their services are required, by accepting vacation and part time employment.' Your No. 1 war work is school work. Keep it up."

To those who will soon be of military age and just want to kill time until then: "You'd despise anyone who shortchanged Uncle Sam, wouldn't you? For military service Uncle Sam needs trained men, men who have had sound, basic education, men who can take responsibility and leadership. When you take time out from school, when you fail to get sound, basic training, aren't you doing the very thing you despise? Get set for service. Go to School."

To those who think that school is not worth while: "Maybe it is hard for you to see just how school can help you, but ask some of the boys in service who didn't finish school, and see what they say. Lots of them wish they had had more school before they joined up. You might ask yourself a question, too: Is it school, or you, that is at fault? Have you honestly tried to get everything out of school you could get? How about talking your problems over with the school principal. Get more out of school by putting more into it."

The war is not going to last forever, whatever you think. Peace-time and wartime are different. It would be nice if someone could tell you for sure just what your world will be like when the war is over. Nobody can. But one thing is sure: the world you live in is going to be a more complicated place than it was before the war. Great advances and changes are taking place right now. There will be more after the war. You'll need all the education and training you can get for the postwar world. And school's the place to get it. Get set for tomorrow. Go to school."

The best place for you to get ready for tomorrow is in high school. The Army and Navy want boys and girls to complete their high school education before joining the services. The War Manpower Commission says schooling comes first.

Let's all start to school this fall that should be there.

Loss of blood causes death of young child

Bonita Louise Arnold, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Arnold, of the Shanley farm, Dundee road, died in the Elmhurst hospital Monday evening four hours after she had cut an artery of her leg. She had returned to the farm with her mother after a trip to Arlington Heights. Her mother heard her scream and rushing outdoors discovered that her daughter had been severely cut. The little girl was rushed to a doctor's office and an ambulance took her to the Elmhurst hospital. Her father submitted to a blood transfusion.

Funeral services are being held at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon with interment in Ridgewood. She leaves besides her parents, two sisters, Mary Ann and Darleen.

Arlington boy to appear Sunday on radio hour

Dick Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Everett, 503 North Haddow, will appear as one of the contestants in the Maurice B. Sachs amateur hour on Sunday, September 3, at 12:30 p. m.

Dick is well known around Arlington Heights for his splendid work as a musician. He is staff pianist for the Methodist Sunday school and assistant organist of the Methodist church. His father, Jack Everett, is also director of music for the Methodist church.

As it will be impossible for him to contact his many friends personally Dick has asked the Herald to inform his friends of the broadcast and any votes that he may receive will be greatly appreciated.

The winner of the contest will receive $75.00 in cash and a beautiful wrist watch.

The broadcast will start at 12:30 p. m. and is heard over radio stations WENR and WCFL.

Sgt Wm Langhorst of Arlington Heights wounded in France

Word was received the past week of Bill Langhorst of Arlington Heights who suffered wounds in France August 10. Official notice reached his mother, Mrs. Anna Langhorst, 115 S. Walnut street, Tuesday morning. Bill had previously wired and written her about his wounds.

Sgt. Langhorst is believed to have been in France only about two weeks when he suffered his wounds. Details of the injury are not known. But Bill did write that he was in an English hospital, receiving the best of care, and that the doctors had told him he would have to stay off his feet for some time.

Sgt. Langhorst entered service in September, 1942, reporting to Camp Grant. His infantry training included Livingston, Louisiana, Gordon, Florida, and Pickett, Virginia. He went overseas in November of '43.

LAST CALL FOR BLOOD BANK

A message to Douglas workers

We have been informed that many employees of the Douglas plant are withholding their blood bank appointments in the belief that the mobile unit will visit the Douglas plant in the near future.

The committee is reliably advised by the Chicago chapter that the schedule for this year is filled and that no provision has been made for the unit to visit the Douglas plant.

Since more than 10 weeks have elapsed since donations were last received at the plant, and it will be at least 16 weeks before the schedule will permit another appointment, all employees of the Douglas plant residing in this area whose working hours permit are urged to register for donations at Arlington Heights Friday and Saturday, September 8 and 9.

Union demands cost Arlington an industry

Arlington Heights has lost an industry, the Pet Milk Company. A payroll averaging between $4,000 and $4,500 a month ends and a number of truck operators must hunt new jobs. That is the net result of the recent strike, called by the Milk Wagon Drivers Union, which gained jurisdiction when four of the seven truck drivers voted that the union act as their bargaining agent. A previous election had been a tie.

The Pet Milk Company, a national organization decided to close out the fluid milk business handled through the Arlington Heights plant rather than pay the men the commission that the union asked. The company charged that the payment of the commission would have raised the salaries of their truck drivers from $500.00 to $1,000.00 a month, depending on the size of the truck. The union countered with a demand that the loads and hours be reduced. They also claimed that other firms were paying the commissions asked of Pet Milk.

The closing of the local plant will be felt by its former local employees, and the business interests as a large part of its pay roll was spent locally.

Besides the eleven (11) people in Arlington Heights, some 25 men at the Company plant at North Prairie will be forced to find employment elsewhere.

John Randag came to Arlington in 1936 in the interest of the Pet Milk Company. It was through his busines acumen that the business handled through Arlington became of large proportions — so large that the firm had considered the erection of a large plant in this vicinity.

Mr. Randag has been active in local civic affairs and is an officer of the Lions Club. His present plans are not definite.

Band instruments needed for both Arlington schools

For over two years it has been difficult to secure musical instruments, partly because they are constructed of brass which is very vital to the war work, and also practically all new instruments in dealer's hands were taken to supply the great demands for army and navy bands.

The supply of used horns is now low and all who have a band or orchestra instrument that might be put into use either in the grade school or high school, are urged to phone the band director, Don Costain, at 1532 if they wish to sell it or rent.

White wool slip over sweaters are part of the band uniform, and are also difficult to obtain. It will be appreciated if anyone has a sweater of this description to also call the above number if they wish to sell it.

Both high school and grade school band members are urged to check over their instruments now, and have them in good shape for the opening of school next week.

Holiday mail service Monday

Next Monday is Labor Day and holiday mail service will be in effect. There will be one early morning collection of mail, and outgoing mail will close at the postoffice at eleven o'clock. There will be no window service. Lobby will be open for drop mail until eleven.

Full time job open at postoffice

There is a full time, eight hours a day job open at the Arlington Heights postoffice. The exact work that will be required depends upon the ability of the applicant. Inquire at the postoffice for details.

As in the past when there has been an opportunity to serve, the people of Arlington Heights and the surrounding area are responding magnificently to the call for blood plasma.

But our quota is high and there are still openings for more donors.

From the blood collected by the Red Cross, 12 of America's leading laboratories process blood plasma or serum albumin. Plasma is the liquid part of the blood and serum albumin a protein solution from the plasma which is used in submarines, paratroopers kits and other places where space is at a premium. These two medical miracles are saving the lives of American fighting men in every theatre of the war. They have been described by the surgeon general as the foremost life savers in the war.

You can become a part of this story of lives saved. And your part of the story is a lot easier than the receiving end. In 45 minutes, without pain or discomfort, you can become a life saver. All you have to do is visit the Field house in Arlington Heights Friday or Saturday, September 8 or 9.

You will be given an examination to determine whether or not you should donate. The donation itself is painless, takes only a few minutes. Then to the canteen for refreshments and after a brief rest you can go on about whatever you were doing.

Any person in normal health between the ages of 18 and 60 weighing 110 pounds or over can be a blood donor. It is the most direct way in which we can back up our men at the front.

A pint of your blood, a few minutes of your time, can save a soldier's life.

Put your name on the honor roll.

Register today with your employer, your church, the organization to which you belong, or any of the following people:

Mrs. Edward Fritz, 533R; Mrs. Paul Miller, 1393; Mrs. John Shanklin, 639W; Mrs. Virgil Horath, 750.

Season ends for Arlington golf league

At a meeting held Tuesday, August 29, after the last matches for the 1944 season at the Mt. Prospect Country club, the members of the Arlington Heights Twilight golf league elected officers and discussed rules for the 1945 season.

Officers elected were: President, Arthur Franzen; Vice-president, Leonard Dunteman; Secretary and Treasurer, Clarence Baily; Membership and Rules committee, Tilford Foy, Pat Kelly, Dick Wilke and C. H. Doellfield.

The membership and rules committee is putting on drive for new members which is to be waged during the winter months. They also are investigating the possibility of changing the night of league play so that it will not conflict with the meetings of the Lions club which are also held on Tuesdays. It is thought that through this change any Arlington men, who are members of the Lions club, will also be enabled to enjoy the fun and recreation of playing in this league.

It was decided by popular vote to accept the gracious invitation of the Des Plaines and Mt. Prospect golf leagues to join them in a gala dinner dance to be held at the Mt. Prospect Country club on Saturday, September 9, with paid up league members being admitted at the expense of the league. There will be an additional charge of $1.35 for each guest. It is hoped at this time to also announce the awards to the sponsors and members of the team finishing the league race in first, second and third places.

An entertainment committee to be appointed at a future meeting to plan parties, a dance or two "we hope" and golf matches both straight and cockeyed, which will add to the enjoyment of each and every member.

Team standings at the close of the 1944 season were: First, Arlington Elevator and Coal; second, Park Lane Laundry; third, Prospect Heights Service station; fourth, Dunteman Dairy; fifth, Arlington National bank; sixth, Webber Paint seventh, Lauterburg and Oehler; eighth, Sieburg Drug store. The league wishes to thank Harold Willson for his help and consideration throughout this entire 1944 season.

Waste paper is war paper

Send your paper to war, to make blood plasma boxes, shell containers, waterproof clothing, ration kits, plane wing tips. Save paper to save lives. Put your bundles on the curb early Saturday, September 9. Trucks will pick them up and start them to their important part in supporting our fighting men and women.

City-wide pickup Saturday, Sept. 9

You can save a life next week

350 more blood bank donors are needed if the quota of 500 is to be reached. The Red Cross blood bank is coming to Arlington Heights next week on the assumption that there will be 500 donors. There are not yet 150.

Voluntary registrations are few. Tuesday night only one person who attended the show at Arlington Theatre volunteered. Volunteer donors from manufacturing plants are fewer than last time.

The blood bank is not for Arlington Heights alone, but for all northwest Cook County. Mothers, sisters, fathers, brothers, aunts and uncles of the boys on the fighting fronts! Your boy is there. He may need Plasma to save his life. How about it? See accompanying article how to register.

Save a life next week by donating your blood. Register at once. The list must be completed by Friday evening.

Pool closes after most successful season in years

Arlington Heights swimming pool closes this Thursday evening after the most successful season in recent years. The weather and freedom from contagion scares are credited for nearly double the number of swimmers of any season. The increase in swim does not mean increase profits as due to the manpower situation the weekly costs of the pool have been high.

The closing of the pool two days earlier than announced in the Herald last week is due to the fact that many of the supplies needed in operating the pool have been exhausted. The increased business used up the reserve supplies. Rather than operate without sufficient bromine for purifying the water, the shut-down was ordered.

Two Chicago boys who came out to Arlington on their bikes to patronize the pool discovered that "no bike riding in the park" is being enforced. They were booked and their bikes were held in lieu of bonds. They had been previously warned by Mr. Mueller not to ride their bicycles within the park.

To hold evening registration hours

Helena Busse, Arlington Heights village clerk announces that she will hold evening office hours for registration of residents who have changed their address. The hours are seven to nine. The dates are September 14, 15 and 16. (9-15

Final announcement grade school opening

The Arlington Heights public elementary schools will open on Tuesday, September 5, at 9:00 a. m., the board of education announced today.

Superintendent R. E. Clabaugh stated that there will be a complete morning session for all classes on Sentember 5, including morning kindergarten, with no school in the afternoon of the first day except for the afternoon kindergarten group.

Children entering the schools for the first time this year who find it impossible to enroli at the superintendent's office in the North school before September 5 should report to the principal's office in their building before going to their classroom. This includes kindergarten children not already registered.

Children five years old on or before December 2, 1944, are eligible for kindergarten. Those who were five years old before June 2, 1944, will make up the afternoon group and should report at 1:00 p. m., September 5, with the remaining pupils assigned to the morning session and reporting at 9:00 a. m. on September 5. Children six years old on or before February 1, 1944, are eligible for first grade.

Children transferring from other systems should present their transfers at the time of registration. Children not previously enrolled in any other elementary school must present a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, or some other acceptable verification of the date of birth at the time of registration.

The Northwestern railroad tracks serve as the dividing line between the North and South schools, with all pupils in the kindergarten and seventh and eighth grades attending the North school.

Cafeteria and Rentals

The cafeteria at the North school will open Wednesday, September 6, with Mrs. Lillian Mitzlaff in charge. Children at both schools are expected to go home for lunch if at all possible. Provision will be made at the South school for the supervision of those children who must carry their lunch.

The rental system will continue to provide children with textbooks and materials at a minimum cost. The fees charged will include the use of materials consumed in regular classroom work, with the exception of pens, pencils, scratch paper, etc. The materials for projects in manual training and domestic science which become the property of the children when finished, will be paid for by the individual student.

Rental fees for all grades will be the same as last year and will be as follows: Grades first through fourth, $2.00. fifth and sixth, $2.50; seventh and eighth, $3.00. Rental fees are established on the basis of the total cost of consumable books, such as workbooks, plus one-fourth of the cost of textbooks used more than one year.

Tuition rates for those children residing in other elementary school districts and admitted to the schools by the board of education have been established at $10.00 per month for one child in a family and $7.00 for each additional child in the family. Tuition is payable monthly in advance at the North school office of the superintendent.

Lutheran school opens Tuesday

St. Peter Lutheran school will open its doors to the new school year on September 5 at 9 a. m. A special divine service in the church will mark the opening. Everyone is cordially invited to this service at 9 a. m.

Indications point to a large enrollment in the kindergarten and first grade. Mrs. Paul Weinrich will teach the kindergarten. If the enrollment is too large, two sessions will be held, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Should this not be necessary, the kindergarten will meet in the annex from 9:00 to 12:00 in the morning.

Miss Ruth Wilkens will take charge of the first grade. Miss Wilkens comes to Arlington Heights from Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mr. Wessler, of Chicago, who was called recently to take over the second grade, has, at this writing, not indicated whether he will accept the position or not. In the event he decides to remain in Chicago, a temporary teacher will be available for this grade.

The teaching positions in the remaining grades will continue as last year:

Mr. H. E. Burger—Grade III.
Mr. K. L. Busse—Grade IV.
Mr. Theo. Preuss—Grade V-VI.
Mr. O. Kolb—Grade VII.
Mr. A. W. Bathje—Grade VIII.

The upper grades will again be departmentalized.

In grades 3-8 all secular textbooks will be handled on a rental basis as in other years. Children will purchase their own pencils and paper. Religious textbooks must also be purchased by the children.

Children entering kindergarten must be 5 years old by December 1. Those entering first grade will be accepted this year if they reach their sixth birthday on or before February 1.

St. Peter Lutheran school is observing its 80th anniversary this year. This unusual event will be recognized by special programs during Lutheran Education Week in October.

St. Peter Lutheran School offers its facilities to any parents who are interested in an excellent Christian training for their children. Parents, who are not members of St. Peter Lutheran Church, pay a nominal tuition fee per child.

The Geisen Bus Co. will again provide transportation for those children living in the Rand-Palatine-Hinz Road area, as well as for those coming from Prospect Heights. The bus will operate on the same schedule as last year.

Mr. Pelletier, our janitor, has done a marvelous job of reconditioning classrooms and hallways. Floors and walls are sparkling and inviting.

Anyone desiring more information about the school is urged to call the principal at 1382-M or the pastor at 256.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiese will move from So. State Rd. to 919 No. Dunton, when vacated by Mrs. Marian Richards, who is taking a smaller apartment.

C. M. Stadtler came home Monday from Springfield where he was a delegate to the Legion convention.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Rau and Miss Amelia have returned from their trip to Missouri where they visited relatives.

September 7 the Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will meet to resume business after the summer vacation. They will give, September 15th, at 12:30 p. m., a demonstration of "Golden Mix Soy Bean Griddle Cakes". Come and taste.

Mrs. Walter Johnson, 1304 N. Dunton ave., entertained a party of neighbors Wednesday afternoon. A pre-birthday celebration. Her birthday will be Saturday.

"Two hundred calls the first day," stated one of last week's want-ad users last Friday after listing household furnishings for sale in Paddock Publications. 'Main items were gone by 10 o'clock Thursday morning. That phone kept ringing from early morning until 10 o'clock at night."

Sure, we know some items listed were "scarcer than hen's teeth" (refrigerator, stove, washing machine), but still 200 calls is 200 calls. Cut it in half and you still have plenty of pulling power for want-ads placed in Paddock's Publications.

The six editions reach over 8,000 homes each week. The rates are low, with special savings to "cash on the line" want-ads. Phone Arlington Heights 1520 for rates.

Be kind to your doctor!

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

Today there is hardly a doctor in the land who does not have more patients than ever to take care of; who is not overworked; who does not think of himself last, if at all.

You can help ease your doctor's burden in many ways. One is by going to his office if it is at all possible, instead of asking him to come to you. Another is by consulting him promptly concerning what may seem to be minor ailments, enabling him to prevent their turning into serious illnesses.

Do your part, and your doctor will do his.

A competent, consecientious druggist will provide only the finest ingredients and workmanship combined in the prescriptions your doctor writes.

This is the 306th of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

A BIGGER TREE

Harold Bingham of Buffalo Creek farm has gotten out the old tape line and reports a still larger tree. Here is his letter:

"Paddock Publishers:

"I read your recent article about Arlington's champion tree with considerable interest and it prompted me to get busy with the old tape line. Your tree is really quite a sapling and may serve well and long to many village aspirants and admirers but here in the country we prefer to let our trees grow up before giving them too much publicity. At any rate here on Buffalo Creek farm we have a tree which offers the following measurements:

"Girth, two feet above ground, 26 feet, 6 inches.

"Girth, five feet above ground, 20 feet, 3 inches.

"Future research might reveal the comparative ages of these two specimens but at present the writer would not even venture an estimate. If I were to offer an opinion, however, I might say that it is indeed fortunate that this area was not included in the haunts of Paul Bunyan. He might well have paused for an afternoon siesta in the widespread shade offered by the monarch which graces our yard while your present patriarch might have had to serve as a brush to discourage ambitious flies and mosquitoes.

Yours very truly,
Harold S. Bingham,
Buffalo Creek Farm."

Need we say more — ?

"Two hundred calls the first day," stated one of last week's want-ad users last Friday after listing household furnishings for sale in Paddock Publications. Main items were gone by 10 o'clock Thursday morning. That phone kept ringing from early morning until 10 o'clock at night."

Sure, we know some items listed were "scarcer than hen's teeth" (refrigerator, stove, washing machine), but still 200 calls is 200 calls. Cut it in half and you still have plenty of pulling power for want-ads placed in Paddock's Publications.

The six editions reach over 8,000 homes each week. The rates are low, with special savings to "cash on the line" want-ads. Phone Arlington Heights 1520 for rates.

Here's how 100 lbs. of waste paper go to war

Every 100 pounds of Waste Paper turned in to the Victory Waste Paper Campaign can be quickly converted into vital war materials.

Frank Havranek, chairman of the Arlington Heights Waste Paper Campaign, today pointed out that each 100 pounds of Waste Paper will make:

11 Protective bands for 1,000 pound bombs.
17 Protective bands for 500 pound bombs.
20 Protective bands for 250 pound bombs.
50 Casings for 75mm. shells.
50 V-boxes for food and equipment.
100 Casings for average size shells.
100 Fin locknut protectors for bombs.
115 Cartons each containing ten 20mm. shells.
200 Containers for field rations.
200 Containers for blood plasma.
650 Cartons for U. S. Army K rations.
1,105 Cartons each containing fifteen 50 calibre bullets.
1,470 Boxes for emergency life boat rations.
2,041 Cartons containing one life preserver light.
2,128 Cartons each containing fifty 45 calibre pistol bullets.
2,911 Cartons containing ten cartridges for inflating lifeboats.

"All kinds of paper that comes into the home—old newspapers and magazines, paper cartons and wrappers, and waste basket paper—are needed immediately as a raw material for the manufacture of these essential war items," the chairman explained.

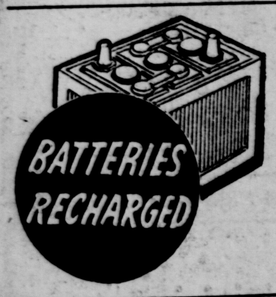
HEY, MISTER

EASY ON THAT CAR

It looks like we're going to have to get still more miles and service out of those cars we are driving. That's why we are urging you drivers to have those little jobs done now before they cause big repair bills and perhaps require irreplaceable parts. Regular checkups and service are necessary to keep your car running safely.



TAKE CAR OF THOSE BATTERIES

With cooler weather and night driving, batteries are taking on a heavier load. Remember they are getting harder to replace. That's why we urge you to have them recharged before they are too badly run down.

Watch Wheel Alignment

Is your car hard to steer, harder to handle? Are your front tires wearing unevenly and too rapidly? Poor wheel alignment is often the cause of this. But it's easy to correct, drive in.

It's mighty dangerous driving an older car without good brakes. Besides faulty brakes cause abnormal tire wear. But you can be sure. Drive in for a checkup. Maybe all you need is a brake adjustment.

Enjoy summer with your family . . . plan now for a post-war modern range

In post-war days, you can enjoy summers with your family instead of spending hours over a kitchen stove. With a miracle-working modern range, you'll go off to a nearby beach with the youngsters—foods will cook while you bask in the summer sun. Automatic controls will turn the heat off when foods are at flavor peak. Dinner will be ready when you come home.

You can be chef in a cooler, cleaner kitchen, too, with a post-war modern range. Smoke streaks won't darken your walls—curtains will stay eye-catchingly bright. So dream today—then have a modern range after Victory bells ring out.

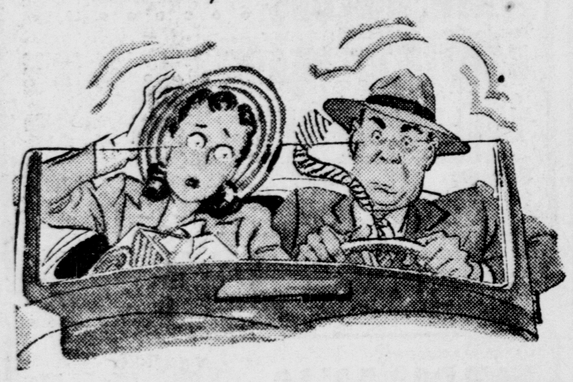
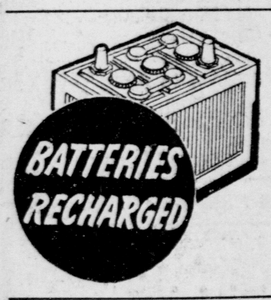
HEY, MISTER



EASY ON THAT CAR

It looks like we're going to have to get still more miles and service out of those cars we are driving. That's why we are urging you drivers to have those little jobs done now before they cause big repair bills and perhaps require irreplaceable parts. Regular checkups and service are necessary to keep your car running safely.



TAKE CAR OF THOSE BATTERIES

With cooler weather and night driving, batteries are taking on a heavier load. Remember they are getting harder to replace. That's why we urge you to have them recharged before they are too badly run down.

Watch Wheel Alignment

Is your car hard to steer, harder to handle? Are your front tires wearing unevenly and too rapidly? Poor wheel alignment is often the cause of this. But it's easy to correct, drive in.

Are Your Brakes Working?

It's mighty dangerous driving an older car without good brakes. Besides faulty brakes cause abnormal tire wear. But you can be sure. Drive in for a checkup. Maybe all you need is a brake adjustment.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:

I hope you do procure "an old fashioned table book" (whatever that may be) if it will help you to remember all your news for me. . . your last letter was full of the sort of news of you and yours that I love to hear. . . how do you always manage to cut your hair off at the precise moment that I'm letting mine grow out . . .

Speaking of your ducks and chickens getting into your garden simply compels me to tell you that we city farmers aren't troubled in that way. . . after paying 30 cents a pound for tomatoes all spring, we're now enjoying our own. . . and I mean enjoying. . . . they're simply huge and taste so much better than any I ever bought. . . I'm also putting them up as they ripen. . . . we're eating our second planting of corn. . . it's so much better than last year's crop. . . the lettuce and beans are gone but the cantalope are ripening. . . . the egyplant is in blossom and the brussels sprouts are "brusseling." . . there. . . aren't you impressed . . . could you possibly manage to bring your family in here for a "farm dinner" before the corn goes? . . . what impresses me are the figures I read in my paper telling the percentage of food grown last year by our Victory gardeners. . . . and each year they learn a little more. . . what worries me right now is what becomes of our surplus. . . we need an organization here in the city to come around and collect it and then distribute it to the needy. . . if I hadn't taken a solemn vow never to become an organizer, I might be tempted to do something about it. . .

So young Bob's taken to smoking a pipe. . . I automatically looked into the mirror when I read that to see if my hair was white . . . tell the big lug I said to remember that it might stunt his growth. . . but after gazing at the picture of him and his father that I have pasted in our family album, maybe he could do with a little stunting. . .

Functional antiques, my eye. . . do you or any of your collecting friends want a genuine, authentic, guaranteed OLD Lazy Daisy? . . . I brought out mine the other evening to serve some refreshments on to your friends, Betty and Dan Bull who had dropped in for the evening. . . constant twirlings through its long life have made it dip on one side. . . every time Dan or Betty gave it a turn, to help themselves to cottage cheese, olives, radishes or what have you, our irresponsible Daisy deposited an unwanted delicacy on Dave's or my plate. . . the same thing happened to Dan and Betty when Dave and I used it. . . this may be all right for Shady Rest, where I secretly believe people come to get a laugh, but it would never do for formal entertaining. . .

You say Angela has a Bendix washing machine. . . I heard about them for the first time a coupie of weeks ago when Beth Bradley was in town and I've been dreaming of them ever since. . . I can hardly believe they do all the things Beth says they do. . . Beth by the way is still single. . . she was describing her sister, Charlotte's machine. . . . Beth's visit to Chicago was a terrible disappointment to us all. . . she was in Augustana hospital the whole time. . . and we haven't seen her in two years. . . we had to go down there to see her but we had no long glorious evenings of her playing for us out here at home. . . she has given up teaching at the University of South Dakota to be at home in Champaign with her father and mother who now need her. . . . she takes a few piano pupils there in her home, just to keep her hand in, I suppose. . . . we had a long talk about Davy's music and I found out that she knows Miss Robyn personally. . . . she met her down at the Conservatory when she was studying for her master's degree. . . she thinks I would be much interested in Miss Robyn's class and urged me to go down and visit it sometime. . .

J. D.'s Koala bear arrived from Australia safe and sound. . . it's darling. . . and looks to me like an exact reproduction. . . real fur and real rubber nose. . . . at first J. D. only patted it gingerly on the head and I thought that he was going to be afraid of it but now he hugs and loves it mightily. . . . it is very amusing to see him carry it about in his arms, because "Aussie" is almost as big as his master. . . isn't cousin Evangeline a peach to do so much for us? . . . she's now in New Guinea and I'm trying to read up on that country the way I did on Australia when she was there . . . I'll follow her all around the world, vicariously if I have to, so that when she does come home to us I'll be able to appreciate her tales more. . . we received a letter from her this morning in which she says she's getting me a cocoanut basket made by the natives of New Guinea. . . . shq also says she's half way through the sweater that she's knitting for Davy. . . . she sent for all the children's measurements and is going to knit each one a sweater and J. D. a whole suit. . . . she bought the yarn in Australia and says that it is particularly good yarn. . . . it ought to be coming from the land of wool, shouldn't it. . . . Evangeline's generosity and very evident love for us all sometimes overcomes me, old Bean. . . . what can I do? . . . how can I ever repay her? . . . I've offered time and again to send her something but she won't let me. . . . did you know that you have to show your postmaster a written request for something before they'll let you mail a package overseas? . . . in today's letter she tells me again that it is useless to mail her anything. . . . she says the girls have all been disappointed when they get a package from home because the articles are always ruined with mildew or the food is filled with ants. . . . yet her gifts to us arrive in perfect condition. . . . if those sweaters that she's knitting for the children arrive for Christmas, as she says they will, I declare I shall be so proud that I'll make each child a set of those double placards that men used to wear over their shoulders, one hanging down in front and the other in the back, advertising some one's sandwiches. . . . and I'll print on each in bold type "these sweaters were knitted for us by our cousin, Lieut. Evangeline Jamison, who is an Army nurse now serving in New Guinea." . . . which makes me think. . . . when all the heroes come marching home, I hope the populus will not forget that there will be some heroines as well. . . . we women ought to cheer especially loud. . . . if I hadn't taken that vow, I might be tempted to do something about this. . . .

But you would save your most exciting news until the last. . . . are you really going to become the editoress of a daily column? . . . you can't surprise me any more, but you can amaze me. . . . what paper? . . . what will you call it? . . . when do you start? . . . please send us a first edition. . . . you know Davy and Louis will want to tell every one about their Aunt Mary, who's a writer. . . . Oh, go on smiling. . . . I confess I'll be just as proud to do the same. . . .

I'll probably get myself ostracized by all my friends because I won't be able to refrain from continually dropping some remark into the conversation about my dear friend, Mary. . . . "the columnist, you know" . . . tell "the boys" if they make any fuss about your writing it, that I said they're lucky, even though hungry, to have such a mother. . . .

With love to you all,
As Always,
Eleanore.

TO BE HONORED

Mrs. Wilbert Hartman and Mrs. Norbert Leckband leave Sunday for Fort Wayne, Ind., where they will attend a reception at the Fort Wayne Deaconess hospital being given by the class of 1926 in honor of Mrs. Sam Lang. Mrs. Leckband is a member of the class of 1926 and Mrs. Hartman of the class of 1932.

Mrs. Lang attended the school at the same time as Mrs. Leckband but graduated in 1927. Both went to India together, where they married Dr. Leckband and Rev. Lang.

I'll probably get myself ostracized by all my friends because I won't be able to refrain from continually dropping some remark into the conversation about my dear friend, Mary. . . . "the columnist, you know" . . . tell "the boys" if they make any fuss about your writing it, that I said they're lucky, even though hungry, to have such a mother. . . .

With love to you all,
As Always,
Eleanore.

The delicious pot luck luncheon was served at noon to the Pin Up girls by the Glamor girls, the losing team in a membership drive held in the spring. Rousing cheers were given to the captain of the Glamor girls, Mrs. Marshall Lindberg, and their hostess, Mrs. Fellingham, for their part in making the day so perfect in every way.

After the last crumb had been tucked away, Mrs. C. H. Mills, captain of the Pin Up girls, presented Mrs. P. P. Camp with a broach as the contestant securing the most new members. As a finai touch to the humorous proceeding of the day, she presented Mrs. Lindberg a scroll certifying the membership of the Glamor girls as cooks of America.

Recreation for the day was provided by Mrs. C. A. Hughes and Mrs. Edward Fritz.

On display will be some of the weather books kept by Dr. B. T. Best. For the past 20 years, Dr. Best has daily recorded the wind direction, precipitation, humidity and temperature, thereby settling many a local argument regarding the weather on a certain day in a certain month or year.

The committee in charge of this exhibit hope to have old lamps, costumes of a hundred years ago, and many more documents of local interest to exhibit. Anyone having such historical items is asked to contact the chairman, Mrs. B. T. Best, phone 179.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Paul Collins entertained Master Sgt. Henry Corbett and his bride of Camp McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corbett of Lake Bluff and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corbett of Barrington.

LABOR DAY 1944

Labor and industry are uniting in fighting the greatest struggle in America's history . . . a struggle which can be allowed to result only in Victory! Labor, which helped to build this nation, has turned from making conveniences like automobiles and refrigerators to the magnificent job of providing planes and ships and tanks and ammunition. Today, while the heroes on the battle fronts are advancing, heroes on the production line are working overtime at making more and more materials. Labor is devoting itself to the task of helping to win the war.

But we must realize that we cannot leave the job of winning the war up to labor and industry and the Armed Forces alone. ALL groups must be united . . . industrial, labor, political, civilian . . . ALL of them must turn their energies to the biggest job before us. On this Labor Day, let us unite from home to factory to the battle front to finish the job we have set out to do.

So. Pacific

H. Elwood Johnson, signalman first class, is now somewhere in the South Pacific aboard a new destroyer. According to his wife, daughter of the D. L. Bakers, 111 Hillside ave., Prospect Heights, no word has been received from him in almost four months.

Mr. Johnson has seen action in the Atlantic and was aboard a ship convoying troops to England for many months. He enlisted in the naval reserve in August of 1939, but was not called for training until February of 1941.

Prior to his departure to the South Pacific, he was stationed at Norfolk, Va., where he was awaiting the completion of this new destroyer, to which he had been assigned.

Private First Class Henry C. Geberbauer, husband of the former Darlene Herr who lives at 6336 North Claremont Avenue, Chicago, has arrived overseas in the South Pacific. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Geberbauer, R. R. No. 2, Box 357, Palatine. His brother, Ed Geberbauer is serving in the U. S. Navy.

Captain Donald E. Welflin of Wheeling left Sunday evening for Hamilton Field, Calif. Captain Welflin has been assigned to the Air Transport Command and expects to be stationed some where in the South Pacific. His wife, who spent last week in Wheeling, has also returned to their home in New York.

Rhode Island

From Davisville, Rhode Island, comes word of Forrest Davis of Arlington Heights.

"I am leaving here Wednesday, August 28, for an embarkation port and naturally I don't have the slightest idea where. There are two hot rumors and as usual they are just the opposite. One is that we go to Boston, thence to Europe. The other and most likely is California and then Island X in the Southwest Pacific.

"The most important news of course is that we are finally scheduled for active duty and most everyone is thrilled and glad of it. There is quite a bit of difference in the desires of our men, but most all prefer the European theater because of the danger of tropical fevers. It makes little difference to me personally.

"I don't have my new address as yet but will forward it as soon as I get it because I sure don't want to miss any of the issues of the Herald."

Aleutians

From the Aleutians comes word of Paul Hoeft of Arlington Heights.

"Understand you have been having some real summer weather lately. Up here it never gets above 60 degrees in the summer and 15 above in the winter. We never have any of those sudden changes in temperature. Don't remember the last time we had sunshine. Won't be long, and we'll be having snow again. All of it isn't gone yet, though, from last year.

"Were able to buy a case of beer and six bottles of coke apiece Friday. On Saturday we all retired to one hut and had a party. Three fellows took their instruments and furnished the music."

His address is: Pfc. Paul Hoeft, 36359478, APO 726, c-o PM, Seattle, Wash.

Bloated Japs swim by as cruiser shells Saipan

Now home on leave after 18 months duty aboard a heavy cruiser in the Pacific ocean is James McDougall of Arlington Heights. Jim arrived home last week, Sunday, and "will be around until September 8."

"Our ship saw plenty of action in the last year and a half, with our job that of bombardment before invasion of various Pacific islands. We were in on the invasion of Saipan and Guam, the battle of the Marshalls, the raid on Palau, Wake, the Gilberts, Truk and numerous other engagements against the Japs.

"The Saipan engagement was by far the worst for us. Though we never did suffer any great amount of damage to the ship, that battle provided the most gruesome sights. We were off-shore both before and during landings on Saipan ,bombarding shore installations and anything in sight.

Bodies Float By

"There were great numbers of Japs killed, as could be expected. In addition many civilians, including women and children, were committing suicide. And when I say many, I mean hundreds. Jumping off a high cliff onto the reefs was a favorite pastime of the Japs, with their bodies floting out to sea.

"And what a sight that was. Hundreds of bodies, all bloated and smashed, floating in the water all about us. The ship pushed them aside as it went by. It's a sight I'll never forget. They were almost all Japs, soldiers, women and children, but undoubtedly some were Marines.

"Outside of the gruesome sights, and battle casualties, a large naval force in action is a beautiful sight. With ships, big and small, all about you, and firing everything they possess, you get a thrill that can't be captured anywhere else.

"Our ship was part of a screening force for several aircraft carriers. When Jap planes came to attack every ship in the unit used every gun, no matter what size, firing at the planes' every turn. It's only when the planes fly so low that the bigger guns cannot be fired.

Only Battle Death

"It was just such a time when our cruiser suffered its only battle death of the entire trip. A 40 milimeter shell from an American aircraft carrier struck one of our men in the stomach. The ship had been firing over us, but when the Jap planes flew low, the shells did also. The man was killed outright.

"We also suffered between 30 and 40 wounded in the entire 18 months, but that is a very light record for that amount of combat. Two other men aboard ship died on that cruise, one from spinal meningitis, and the other when he was electrocuted while installing electrical equipment.

"Some of our ships were hit by torpedoes in these battles. I saw the Liscome Bay carrier sunk, and saw two other carriers damaged. They have since been sent to the states for repairs.

Down 300 Planes

"As every one knows, life is valued much more than mere planes aboard an aircraft carrier. Many times American planes are shot down, but the pilots are rescued. I remember that particular battle where our carrier force attacked the Japs, shooting down more than 300 enemy planes.

"Our fliers had to go beyond their 'safe' range to chase the Japs, and, thus, ran low on fuel. Because of the traffic when they returned to their ships, the planes had to circle several times before landing. They didn't have the fuel, however, for this, so about 50 planes were lost when fliers bailed out. Practically all of the pilots were picked up and returned to their ships.

"Another factor in this regard is darkness which settles over the carrier before the planes return. Many times it is better to discard the plane, rather than risk the pilot's life in landing in the dark. Each carrier always has a good many planes in the hold, still in crates, and slated for replacements.

Ammo' Ships Are On The Job

"One of the prettiest sights I saw was an enemy ammunition dump blowing up. It went up just like a big ice cream cone. It started small and then fanned out as the debris went higher and higher.

"Many persons think our own ammunition ships stay far behind. That is untrue. In the Marshalls we were docked right next to an ammunition ship taking on our share when the attack was still in progress. Lights had been strung everywhere so that it looked like the great, white way that night. Those boys on the Ammo's just went right on loading in spite of the shells falling all around us. When the shells came too close, however, we had to pull out.

Sees Art Miller

"First six months of service at sea was in the north Pacific, including the Aleutians. We docked at Adak where I met Art Miller of Wheeling. He was the only man from this area that I met on the entire cruise. I also met him at Pearl Harbor.

"My job was to man the phones in the control station. Our station was second in command, to be used in case the first was knocked out in battle. First action you are in gets you pretty excited, but after that you get used to it, and go about your work as usual. It's only when planes attack you that you start praying. When you see several torpedo planes launching their deadly missles at you, that's when you rattle off every prayer you ever hard before, plus a few more you make up as you go along."

Jim entered the service in September of '42, training at San Diego. It was in December of that year that he went aboard his cruiser, but didn't leave the States until February. His ship is just 10 years old, the first cruiser to be commissioned after Roosevelt took office. It is now considered 'old' in official circles.

West Indies

From Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, comes word of Ralph Nebel of Arlington Heights.

"I am now stationed on an island called Aruba, which belongs to the Dutch Government. It is 17 miles long and about 7 miles wide. It lies about 20 miles off the coast of Venezuela in the Carribean Sea of the Netherlands West Indies. Most of the people on the island are natives. Standard Oil has one of the largest refineries in the world right here.

"All our drinking water is brought in to us by boat. Of course, all our food is, too. Lot of it is dehydrated. People in the states don't know how lucky they are. There isn't a thing for a soldier to do down here except outside movies. Most of the pictures are terrible.

"I think With Uncle Sam is swell. However I very seldom get the paper. For the past four months I have received either five or six. I don't believe it is any fault of yours.

"I am now in the Ordnance Department. I am Section Chief for the whole Ordnance Section on the island. Plenty of work keeps me right on the ball. I expect to leave here within the next 30 days or so. I hope they send me back to the States. That is a very slim chance. I would have made another promotion but because I am to be transferred, I am out of luck."

His address is S/Sgt. Ralph Nebel, 36343431, APO 811, % PM, Miami, Fla.

Iowa

Now officially in the Wacs is Margaret Hull of Arlington Heights. Margaret enlisted August 5, and reported Thursday in Chicago. She was scheduled to go to Des Moines, Iowa, for the present.

"We were three hours late getting in here, going to bed at 1 a. m. We were up again at 5:45, issued uniforms, etc. We started our basic training Tuesday. This will last six weeks.

"I like it very much. The girls are all nice, with many young girls with me."

★ PUT WASTE-PAPER TO WAR WORK! THE NEED IS VITAL.

THAT was Illinois Bell's biggest rush order. A vital war job—putting in a complete telephone system for the world's largest airplane engine plant.

The construction and equipment of such a plant is an essential step toward American Victory. In all cases, your telephone company has been able to install the telephones needed in the war effort. This is one of the reasons why we have not been able to meet all civilian requests for telephones.

However, if your name is one of those on our waiting list, please be sure we will care for your needs at the earliest possible moment.

Fortunately, under these trying conditions, there are more than a million customers for whom service has been going on about as usual.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are as different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."

"Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials. In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflaging equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratroop equipment and dozens of other things.

"Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out... ready and eager to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have been of much help."

Bloated Japs swim by as cruiser shells Saipan

Now home on leave after 18 months duty aboard a heavy cruiser in the Pacific ocean is James McDougall of Arlington Heights. Jim arrived home last week, Sunday, and "will be around until September 8."

"Our ship saw plenty of action in the last year and a half, with our job that of bombardment before invasion of various Pacific islands. We were in on the invasion of Saipan and Guam, the battle of the Marshalls, the raid on Palau, Wake, the Gilberts, Truk and numerous other engagements against the Japs.

"The Saipan engagement was by far the worst for us. Though we never did suffer any great amount of damage to the ship, that battle provided the most gruesome sights. We were off-shore both before and during landings on Saipan bombarding shore installations and anything in sight.

Bodies Float By

"There were great numbers of Japs killed, as could be expected. In addition many civilians, including women and children, were committing suicide. And when I say many, I mean hundreds. Jumping off a high cliff onto the reefs was a favorite pastime of the Japs, with their bodies floting out to sea.

"And what a sight that was. Hundreds of bodies, all bloated and smashed, floating in the water all about us. The ship pushed them aside as it went by. It's a sight I'll never forget. They were almost all Japs, soldiers, women and children, but undoubtedly some were Marines.

"Outside of the gruesome sights, and battle casualties, a large naval force in action is a beautiful sight. With ships, big and small, all about you, and firing everything they possess, you get a thrill that can't be captured anywhere else.

"Our ship was part of a screening force for several aircraft carriers. When Jap planes came to attack every ship in the unit used every gun, no matter what size, firing at the planes' every turn. It's only when the planes fly so low that the bigger guns cannot be fired.

Only Battle Death

"It was just such a time when our cruiser suffered its only battle death of the entire trip. A 40 milimeter shell from an American aircraft carrier struck one of our men in the stomach. The ship had been firing over us, but when the Jap planes flew low, the shells did also. The man was killed outright.

"We also suffered between 30 and 40 wounded in the entire 18 months, but that is a very light record for that amount of combat. Two other men aboard ship died on that cruise, one from spinal meningitis, and the other when he was electrocuted while installing electrical equipment.

"Some of our ships were hit by torpedoes in these battles. I saw the Liscome Bay carrier sunk, and saw two other carriers damaged. They have since been sent to the states for repairs.

Down 300 Planes

"As every one knows, life is valued much more than mere planes aboard an aircraft carrier. Many times American planes are shot down, but the pilots are rescued. I remember that particular battle where our carrier force attacked the Japs, shooting down more than 300 enemy planes.

"Our fliers had to go beyond their 'safe' range to chase the Japs, and, thus, ran low on fuel. Because of the traffic when they returned to their ships, the planes had to circle several times before landing. They didn't have the fuel, however, for this, so about 50 planes were lost when fliers bailed out. Practically all of the pilots were picked up and returned to their ships.

"Another factor in this regard is darkness which settles over the carrier before the planes return. Many times it is better to discard the plane, rather than risk the pilot's life in landing in the dark. Each carrier always has a good many planes in the hold, still in crates, and slated for replacements.

Ammo' Ships Are On The Job

"One of the prettiest sights I saw was an enemy ammunition dump blowing up. It went up just like a big ice cream cone. It started small and then fanned out as the debris went higher and higher.

"Many persons think our own ammunition ships stay far behind. That is untrue. In the Marshalls we were docked right next to an ammunition ship taking on our share when the attack was still in progress. Lights had been strung everywhere so that it looked like the great, white way that night. Those boys on the Ammo's just went right on loading in spite of the shells falling all around us. When the shells came too close, however, we had to pull out.

Sees Art Miller

"First six months of service at sea was in the north Pacific, including the Aleutians. We docked at Adak where I met Art Miller of Wheeling. He was the only man from this area that I met on the entire cruise. I also met him at Pearl Harbor.

"My job was to man the phones in the control station. Our station was second in command, to be used in case the first was knocked out in battle. First action you are in gets you pretty excited, but after that you get used to it, and go about your work as usual. It's only when planes attack you that you start praying. When you see several torpedo planes launching their deadly missles at you, that's when you rattle off every prayer you ever hard before, plus a few more you make up as you go along."

Jim entered the service in September of '42, training at San Diego. It was in December of that year that he went aboard his cruiser, but didn't leave the States until February. His ship is just 10 years old, the first cruiser to be commissioned after Roosevelt took office. It is now considered 'old' in official circles.

West Indies

From Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, comes word of Ralph Nebel of Arlington Heights.

"I am now stationed on an island called Aruba, which belongs to the Dutch Government. It is 17 miles long and about 7 miles wide. It lies about 20 miles off the coast of Venezuela in the Carribean Sea of the Netherlands West Indies. Most of the people on the island are natives. Standard Oil has one of the largest refineries in the world right here.

"All our drinking water is brought in to us by boat. Of course, all our food is, too. Lot of it is dehydrated. People in the states don't know how lucky they are. There isn't a thing for a soldier to do down here except outside movies. Most of the pictures are terrible.

"I think With Uncle Sam is swell. However I very seldom get the paper. For the past four months I have received either five or six. I don't believe it is any fault of yours.

"I am now in the Ordnance Department. I am Section Chief for the whole Ordnance Section on the island. Plenty of work keeps me right on the ball. I expect to leave here within the next 30 days or so. I hope they send me back to the States. That is a very slim chance. I would have made another promotion but because I am to be transferred, I am out of luck."

His address is S/Sgt. Ralph Nebel, 36343431, APO 811, % PM, Miami, Fla.

"I like it very much. The girls are all nice, with many young girls with me."

★ PUT WASTE-PAPER TO WAR WORK! THE NEED IS VITAL.

THAT was Illinois Bell's biggest rush order. A vital war job—putting in a complete telephone system for the world's largest airplane engine plant.

The construction and equipment of such a plant is an essential step toward American Victory. In all cases, your telephone company has been able to install the telephones needed in the war effort. This is one of the reasons why we have not been able to meet all civilian requests for telephones.

However, if your name is one of those on our waiting list, please be sure we will care for your needs at the earliest possible moment.

Fortunately, under these trying conditions, there are more than a million customers for whom service has been going on about as usual.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are as different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."

"Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials. In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflaging equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratroop equipment and dozens of other things.

"Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out ... ready and eager to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have been of much help."

New Mexico

Earl Weckerly of Wheeling writes from Las Vegas, New Mexico.

"I received your 2nd anniversary edition of the Cook County Herald and I wish to compliment you on the fine job of gathering news from boys in the service from all corners of the globe for your With Uncle Sam section of the paper. It was very interesting to read about fellows I know and to find out where they are these days.

"Since I wrote that article to you, that you published in your anniversary edition, I have taken a trip to Amarilla, Texas, to visit a friend of mine, whom I went through basic training with at Jefferson Barracks, at St. Louis, Mo. While on the Field I went to the officer in charge of the A. M. school and secured a pass from him, to take a tour of inspection through a B-29 Superfortress and I can truly say that it is really some ship. I also saw the B-17 flying fortress, the 'Mary Ann', from the motion picture 'Flying Fortress', and I saw the B-17, the 'Memphis Belle', from the picture of the same name, 'The Memphis Belle'. I had quite a thrilling time and I felt quite honored that I had a chance to inspect a B-29, with all of its equipment aboard.

"I sincerely enjoyed your anniversary edition of the paper and I hope you will continue with your column 'With Uncle Sam'. I always look forward to receiving my Cook County Herald."

France

A letter from Capt. Robert Kruse of Wheeling dated August 10 in France reads as follows:

"The French really seem to appreciate the American forces more and more every day. Went through a large town yesterday that just echoed with the cheers and people stood and waved their arms off all day long. They are really happy and I don't blame them. The streets were lined with them on both sides.

"By the time I got through the town I had twelve ripe tomatoes, three peaches, dozens of flowers and plenty of waved kisses. The fresh fruit really tasted good and was a real treat. Oh yes, there were a few eggs thrown in on the deal. Makes one realize that all of this isn't in vain. You should have heard the hollering when a truck load of prisoners went through town.

"I always did want to see Paris, preferably in spring, but will settle for the fall this year. It would be nice to travel this country when this is all over for they do have some queer customs and some very beautiful sights.

"Say hello to everyone and keep the letters coming."

From France this week comes word of Pete Bodor of Arlington Heights.

"Greetings to everyone in Arlington. Am now on this side of the ocean and feeling swell. The weather here is just like back home, except it's a little noisier, but you get used to it.

"Has been some time since I have written the Herald. Haven't received any papers for some time, but we are moving so fast I guess it takes a while to catch up to us.

"Keep up the good work on With Uncle Sam."

"They say California is a swell place to live, but I'll take good old Palatine any day. I've only lived in Palatine two years but I made a lot of friends and hope to make many more when I return.

"Two of my buddies and I went swimming in the ocean recently. It was swell but very rough. I prefer the Arlington swimming pool back there."

His address is Pvt. Robert C. Wright, 552519, 3rd Repl. Draft, Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

Doughboy asks equality in battle consideration

Saipan

Another exclusive for With Uncle Sam! We revealed two weeks ago that Anthony Scolaro of Arlington Heights was then stationed on Saipan. He writes this week from that station, saying "can now reveal where I am stationed."

"Here I am again—only this time I am writing from a spot a lot closer to Tojo. This letter comes to you from Saipan in the Mariana Group of Islands. My APO Number has been changed again to 244. I have been here for quite a while now, the exact time of which I am unable to divulge.

"Spent five days in British Samoa before getting in and out of the rain. Only reason we get in the rain is to wash the mud off. From the Jap equipment I've see so far, it's a wonder to me how they go on fighting. All of it is so antique. They still have oxen to pull their carts around.

"The distinguishing features of this place are rain and mud and plenty of both. The fireworks have fairly well subsided as we have just a few snipers left.

"I have gone through the town of Garripan and all I can say is that whenever the U. S. goes into action they sure are thorough. Garripan is in absolute ruins and the smell of decaying Jap bodies which emanates therefrom is terrific.

"I am now living in a combined pup tent and foxhole. It sure is nice and damp. However, in the neighborhood, is a Jap house or barn which is fairly whole so I am doing my best to repair it and make it livable. In time I will have a nice warm barn to live in.

"Oh yes, a couple of days ago I went out and picked up a couple of green bunches of bananas and now I am in the process of ripening them—a process, which as you know, I am not at all unfamiliar with.

"Have had occasion to visit several of the Jap soldiers and civilians in prison here. They all say they abhor war, but that they have been taught to obey their commanders, no matter what the cost. Take it or leave it.

"Had distinction of going into Guam on the second land-based plane going into that island since the Japs took over in '41.

"Got me a date tonight with a nurse. Will probably get sniped at a few times, but who cares. At least I'll have the company of a white woman for a couple of hours. Incidentally, she's from Milwaukee.

"While I was stationed on the Gilbert Islands there was a fellow stationed there from Arlington Heights. His name is Orson A. Rau. Had I known that he was on the same island I sure would have looked him up. I would like if sometime the Herald could publish a list of the fellows in this area. I do a tremendous amount of traveling and if I know where these fellows are stationed I could drop in to see them. I know that I would certainly like to see any fellow from my home town. I am also at a disadvantage in that the paper is at the present time only slightly over 3 months late. My last edition was the first issue in May.

"Oh yes, when I left the Gilbert Islands Young Hildebrand of Palatine was leaving also. He is on his way back to Pearl Harbor for a refresher course. You might call his folks up and tell them that he is in the best of health.

"I solved another problem last night when I found a small Japanese hand laundry wholly intact. I am now in the process of washing my clothes, using Japanese soap suds to take the mud cakes off my clothes. Some fun. I certainly ought to be a jack of all trades when this shindig is over.

"See you at the end of this war which should be in the neighborhood of May, 1945 (I hope)!"

His address is Lt. A. T. Scolaro, 0-579168, APO 244, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Virginia

From Camp Pickett, Virginia, comes word of Clarence Piepenbrink of Mt. Prospect.

"Received the Anniversary Edition of the Herald and will say it really was an extra.

"I must say that I wasn't the only one to enjoy this edition. Every G. I. in my squad had to read it. It was a real edition. We found some of the stories very interesting.

"I would like to make one correction. You had a picture of me and a little note with it. You had me from Arlington Heights. Well, I don't mind this. Arlington is a swell town, and I spend most of my time there on my furlough, but my home is in Mt. Prospect.

"I can't tell you much about what we are doing. We are still training men and expect to stop training men and may get in there and do some good. We do know our time is short and expect to go soon."

His address is Cpl. Clarence Piepenbrink, 2nd Bn., Hq. Co. 311 Inf., APO 78, Camp Pickett, Va.

New Jersey

Home on a 17 day furlough from Fort Monmouth, N. J., is T/5 Suzanne Schenk, who has been training with the army signal corps.

Sending a letter from Italy this week is Melvin Beese of Mt. Prospect. The letter is well-chosen, and is good food for thought.

"Received the Herald a few days ago and was glad to get it, because I didn't receive one since March. I thought I'd never get it again, but I did. I want to thank you for sending it. I know it isn't your fault that I didn't receive it for so long, and hope to keep getting it steadily.

"I've got a little griping to do and I would like for some one, whom ever it may concern, to think it over and give it a little consideration.

"No matter where I go and pick up a paper it's the air corps doing this. I pick up a magazine and they're doing that. I read about the air-borne troops having it tough and the paratroops having it tough. They seem to get a lot of glory.

"What about the guy who really has to do the dirty work, the guy who is so well forgotten. You've heard of the outfit—it's the infantry. A lot of people take the infantry as the lowest branch of the army and the dumbest guys are in it. Maybe that's true.

"But why does everybody wait for the war's end? It's not only the air corps or the air-borne outfits. How about the outfit that's chased the Jerries way up in Northern France, in Normandy, and now in Southern France. You've read about the divisions being veterans from Italy. Those divisions are crack outfits and they are the infantry (dogfaces).

"After each attack we can't do like the air corps and go back to our field and sleep in a bunk, eat good meals, or complete 50 missions and go home. We're on the line from two months to four. After every attack we have something to look forward to, the next attack, and we try and get some sleep in the Foxhole Palace with dirt walls, no roof and some times we have fresh water to lay in. After 50 attacks, not missions, we go and make 50 more.

"Another incident! After our hospitalization from wounds we have received we go to a camp for returning to our outfits. One night a bunch of air corps guys came over to that camp to go home. They'd completed 50 missions. Anyway, they didn't have enough cots for them. Where could they get 'em? Some jerk of an officer woke up our little infantry and artillery men and said that a bunch of fellows needed their beds and they had to sleep on the ground so they could get used to it again because they were returning to their fox holes again, while those other men were going home.

"They never got my bed I assure you. I had a little trouble over it but it was well taken care of in a few seconds or should I say minutes. He finally decided to let me have my cot. This may be criticized by many fellows but I have thousands of ground troops, the cream of the crop, to back me up. This is one incident out of maybe hundreds but all of it proves that who ever has a son, brother, father, uncle in the infantry, don't give 'em glory, just a few prayers and a little encouragement.

"Jerrie knows our infantry quite well. Ask him about the Red Bull Division, the one I'm in. Ask him about the T Division, the blue and white striped patch, the thunderbird, the F. S. S. F. regiments and he'll pull the hair out of his head. That's why they're being pushed back in Italy, France, and Russia, Yugoslavia, and now in Southern France and in the Pacific, including our gallant guys in the marines. This is not a story, it's true facts and there's a little saying in unity there is strength.

"This little letter may be criticized by many but let them. All the rest that have had any experience on the line will back it up.

"Keep sending the Enterprise. I like it. It reminds me of the day when all the guys come home from all over the world."

His address is Pfc. Melvin W. Beese, 36642798, APO 34, % PM, New York, N. Y.

Texas

From Fort Sam Houston, Tex., comes word of Wally Linneweh of Palatine.

"Been a long time since I last wrote your column. Suppose most of my friends think I'm still over seas. I came back on the rotation plan, after 2 months in the Southwest Pacific. While over there I never ran into any one that I knew in civilian life.

"I took part in three major campaigns. I was in New Britain when I found out I was going back to the States. That was the best news I ever got. Arrived in the States June 23. After a 23 day delay en route, I reported down here. This fort is near San Antonio.

"Saw the Alamo and a lot of other historical places. This fort is o. k. but I know of a better place I'd rather be. But, till then I'd just as soon spend my time fighting the battle of Texas. Won't be here very long, cause this is just a reassignment center.

"I'll take this opportunity to say Hello to all my friends in the services, and wish them all the best of luck, for I'm sure they may need it.

"I always look forward to receiving the Palatine Enterprise so keep up the With Uncle Sam column. It's sure good to hear from the rest of the boys and to read of the other fellows' experiences."

Given discharge

Honorable discharge from the army was given Sunday to Bruce Clark of Arlington Heights. Bruce was stationed at Tonkawa, Oklahoma, prisoner of war camp, serving as a transportation man with the railroad.

Mr. Clark had been in service 21 months, the last 14 at Tonkawa. Previous to his enlistment he worked for the Chicago Northwestern railroad. He plans to return to that company.

Harry Jaegermann of Wheeling returned to civilian life last Friday after receiving a medical discharge from the navy. Harry had been stationed at Great Lakes where he had spent the greater part of two months in the hospital. An injury to his foot failed to respond to treatment and was responsible for his discharge. Harry held the rating of MM1/c since completing his boot training at Camp Peary, Va.

How about a Birthday Party for your car?

How old is your car now? Better not think of that . . . but there's real cause for celebrating its completion of another winter of service!

You probably never dreamed it would be with you so long, did you? And you can't tell how much longer it will have to keep giving you transportation.

So to make sure there will be happy returns of the day, you'd better give your car a birthday party — at a Tydol Service Station. Treat it to the care that will keep its age a secret and its performance youthful.

Start off with a fresh filling of Veedol Motor Oil. It's made from 100% Pennsylvania crude — finest the world can boast. It's wear's worst enemy, and your engine's best friend.

Then coddle the chassis with a genuine Veedol Safety-Check Lubrication job. That's the full treatment with five specialized lubricants. They get to every part they're needed, and fight off friction at every one of 'em.

Next, have your Tydol dealer check over those precious tires. He can spot trouble that threatens in weak spots and cuts, and he'll put a stop to it before it starts. Maybe a recap is called for . . . the Tydol man can take care of that, too.

And the Tydol dealer has a few presents he'll give your car himself — battery attention, spark plug examination if you want, a regular course of correct air pressure for your tires.

Finally, you can wind up the festivities with Tydol Flying A gasoline, to get top mileage in those trouble-free miles you're making sure of.

Good idea? You bet. Why not set the date now . . . say today — or tomorrow at the latest!

REQUIRE MORE PEOPLE TO BUILD SKYMASTERS FOR NEWEST SCHEDULE

Plant Manager John C. Buckwalter last week lauded Douglas Chicago employes for making the July quota of C-54 Skymasters despite the Ad building fire and discussed long-range plans for the Chicago plant.

"Let me make it very clear to you," Buckwalter told Douglas Chicago employes, "there is no contemplated curtailment of C-54 production.

"As a matter of fact, just the opposite is true. Our present rate of production is but 30 per cent of what we must ultimately attain at this factory.

"Let me repeat—we are only building 30 per cent this month of what we ultimately have to build every month. This means we must hire more and more people and build airplanes faster in the Chicago plant.

"This also means we must build them for a long time to come. Please do not confuse rumors you hear about other companies and other airplanes with what is happening here at this plant."

Write With Uncle Sam, c-o this paper, Arlington Heights, Ill.

New Mexico

Earl Weckerly of Wheeling writes from Las Vegas, New Mexico.

"I received your 2nd anniversary edition of the Cook County Herald and I wish to compliment you on the fine job of gathering news from boys in the service from all corners of the globe for your With Uncle Sam section of the paper. It was very interesting to read about fellows I know and to find out where they are these days.

"Since I wrote that article to you, that you published in your anniversary edition, I have taken a trip to Amarilla, Texas, to visit a friend of mine, whom I went through basic training with at Jefferson Barracks, at St. Louis, Mo. While on the Field I went to the officer in charge of the A. M. school and secured a pass from him, to take a tour of inspection through a B-29 Superfortress and I can truly say that it is really some ship. I also saw the B-17 flying fortress, the 'Mary Ann', from the motion picture 'Flying Fortress', and I saw the B-17, the 'Memphis Belle', from the picture of the same name, 'The Memphis Belle'. I had quite a thrilling time and I felt quite honored that I had a chance to inspect a B-29, with all of its equipment aboard.

"I sincerely enjoyed your anniversary edition of the paper and I hope you will continue with your column 'With Uncle Sam'. I always look forward to receiving my Cook County Herald."

His address is Pvt. Earl J. Weckerly, 505th AAF Base Unit, Gp. 2, Camp Luna, Las Vegas, New Mexico.

France

Dalton C. Kruse, formerly of Palatine, has been promoted from technical sergeant to master sergeant, it was announced recently by headquarters of the Ninth Air Force Service Group to which he is attached in France.

Sergeant Kruse is a member of a mobile repair and reclamation squadron, the first service group to land in Normandy. Composed of skilled technicians and mechanics, the job of this squadron is to do heavy repair work on damaged planes and put them back in flying trim. Based at an advance landing field, the M. R. & R. squadron, as it is called, often operates within range of German patrols to salvage Allied planes that have crashed near the front line.

Sergeant Kruse is the son of Harry E. Kruse of DesPlaines. A graduate of Palatine Township high school, he was assistant manager of the Northern Illinois Finance Company, Elgin, before entering the service.

L. O. K.

Now LOK is Kenneth Birks of Palatine. Ken left for overseas two weeks ago. He entered service May 6, 1943, and trained with the Marines at San Diego and Camp Pendleton, California.

Now overseas is Arnold Schaefer of Arlington Heights. His address is: S-Sgt. Arnold M. Schaefer, 363-59325, APO 95, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Ohio

Home for eight days this week is William Neubauer of Arlington Heights. Bill is an aviation student at Denison university Granville, Ohio. He is half through with his first term, and expects to remain at Denison until next July. Bill came home Sunday, and reports back by Monday.

Massachusetts

Home for a few days from Boston, Mass., was Clifton Usher of Arlington Heights. Clifton arrived last week Tuesday, but left again Sunday, to return to Boston. He has been stationed there with the navy amphibious forces for about a month.

Georgia

Pvt. Robert VanDenBerg, who has been home on a furlough this week, left for Camp Robins, Ga., for new assignment. He is a radioman on a C47.

France

A letter from Capt. Robert Kruse of Wheeling dated August 10 in France reads as follows:

"The French really seem to appreciate the American forces more and more every day. Went through a large town yesterday that just echoed with the cheers and people stood and waved their arms off all day long. They are really happy and I don't blame them. The streets were lined with them on both sides.

"By the time I got through the town I had twelve ripe tomatoes, three peaches, dozens of flowers and plenty of waved kisses. The fresh fruit really tasted good and was a real treat. Oh yes, there were a few eggs thrown in on the deal. Makes one realize that all of this isn't in vain. You should have heard the hollering when a truck load of prisoners went through town.

"I always did want to see Paris, preferably in spring, but will settle for the fall this year. It would be nice to travel this country when this is all over for they do have some queer customs and some very beautiful sights.

"Say hello to everyone and keep the letters coming."

From France this week comes word of Pete Bodor of Arlington Heights.

"Greetings to everyone in Arlington. Am now on this side of the ocean and feeling swell. The weather here is just like back home, except it's a little noisier, but you get used to it.

"Has been some time since I have written the Herald. Haven't received any papers for some time, but we are moving so fast I guess it takes a while to catch up to us.

"Keep up the good work on With Uncle Sam."

His address is Pvt. Peter Bodor, 16126866, APO 230, % PM, New York, N. Y.

California

From Camp Pendleton, California, marine base comes word of Robert Wright of Palatine.

"I think it is very kind of you to send me the home town paper. I enjoy it very much. It is good to know how everything is back home. I understand that Mrs. Robert Mosser, President of the Legion Auxiliary, is responsible for us getting the paper. I thank her, and the Auxiliary, very much.

"They say California is a swell place to live, but I'll take good old Palatine any day. I've only lived in Palatine two years but I made a lot of friends and hope to make many more when I return.

"Two of my buddies and I went swimming in the ocean recently. It was swell but very rough. I prefer the Arlington swimming pool back there."

His address is Pvt. Robert C. Wright, 552519, 3rd Repl. Draft, Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

Washington D. C.

Now at Washington, D. C., is Alfred Krueger of Palatine. His new address is Cpl. Alfred E. Krueger, 1st Hq. Bn., Hq. USMC, Washington 25, D. C.

Doughboy asks equality in battle consideration

Saipan

Another exclusive for With Uncle Sam! We revealed two weeks ago that Anthony Scolaro of Arlington Heights was then stationed on Saipan. He writes this week from that station, saying "can now reveal where I am stationed."

"Here I am again—only this time I am writing from a spot a lot closer to Tojo. This letter comes to you from Saipan in the Mariana Group of Islands. My APO Number has been changed again to 244. I have been here for quite a while now, the exact time of which I am unable to divulge.

"Spent five days in British Samoa before getting in and out of the rain. Only reason we get in the rain is to wash the mud off. From the Jap equipment I've see so far, it's a wonder to me how they go on fighting. All of it is so antique. They still have oxen to pull their carts around.

"The distinguishing features of this place are rain and mud and plenty of both. The fireworks have fairly well subsided as we have just a few snipers left.

"I have gone through the town of Garripan and all I can say is that whenever the U. S. goes into action they sure are thorough. Garripan is in absolute ruins and the smell of decaying Jap bodies which emanates therefrom is terrific.

"I am now living in a combined pup tent and foxhole. It sure is nice and damp. However, in the neighborhood, is a Jap house or barn which is fairly whole so I am doing my best to repair it and make it livable. In time I will have a nice warm barn to live in.

"Oh yes, a couple of days ago I went out and picked up a couple of green bunches of bananas and now I am in the process of ripening them—a process, which as you know, I am not at all unfamiliar with.

"Have had occasion to visit several of the Jap soldiers and civilians in prison here. They all say they abhor war, but that they have been taught to obey their commanders, no matter what the cost. Take it or leave it.

"Had distinction of going into Guam on the second land-based plane going into that island since the Japs took over in '41.

"Got me a date tonight with a nurse. Will probably get sniped at a few times, but who cares. At least I'll have the company of a white woman for a couple of hours. Incidentally, she's from Milwaukee.

"While I was stationed on the Gilbert Islands there was a fellow stationed there from Arlington Heights. His name is Orson A. Rau. Had I known that he was on the same island I sure would have looked him up. I would like if sometime the Herald could publish a list of the fellows in this area. I do a tremendous amount of traveling and if I know where these fellows are stationed I could drop in to see them. I know that I would certainly like to see any fellow from my home town. I am also at a disadvantage in that the paper is at the present time only slightly over 3 months late. My last edition was the first issue in May.

"Oh yes, when I left the Gilbert Islands Young Hildebrand of Palatine was leaving also. He is on his way back to Pearl Harbor for a refresher course. You might call his folks up and tell them that he is in the best of health.

"I solved another problem last night when I found a small Japanese hand laundry wholly intact. I am now in the process of washing my clothes, using Japanese soap suds to take the mud cakes off my clothes. Some fun. I certainly ought to be a jack of all trades when this shindig is over.

"See you at the end of this war which should be in the neighborhood of May, 1945 (I hope)!"

His address is Lt. A. T. Scolaro, 0-579168, APO 244, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Virginia

From Camp Pickett, Virginia, comes word of Clarence Piepenbrink of Mt. Prospect.

"Received the Anniversary Edition of the Herald and will say it really was an extra.

"I must say that I wasn't the only one to enjoy this edition. Every G. I. in my squad had to read it. It was a real edition. We found some of the stories very interesting.

"I would like to make one correction. You had a picture of me and a little note with it. You had me from Arlington Heights. Well, I don't mind this. Arlington is a swell town, and I spend most of my time there on my furlough, but my home is in Mt. Prospect.

"I can't tell you much about what we are doing. We are still training men and expect to stop training men and may get in there and do some good. We do know our time is short and expect to go soon."

His address is Cpl. Clarence Piepenbrink, 2nd Bn., Hq. Co. 311 Inf., APO 78, Camp Pickett, Va.

New Jersey

Home on a 17 day furlough from Fort Monmouth, N. J., is T/5 Suzanne Schenk, who has been training with the army signal corps.

Sending a letter from Italy this week is Melvin Beese of Mt. Prospect. The letter is well-chosen, and is good food for thought.

"Received the Herald a few days ago and was glad to get it, because I didn't receive one since March. I thought I'd never get it again, but I did. I want to thank you for sending it. I know it isn't your fault that I didn't receive it for so long, and hope to keep getting it steadily.

"I've got a little griping to do and I would like for some one, whom ever it may concern, to think it over and give it a little consideration.

"No matter where I go and pick up a paper it's the air corps doing this. I pick up a magazine and they're doing that. I read about the air-borne troops having it tough and the paratroops having it tough. They seem to get a lot of glory.

"What about the guy who really has to do the dirty work, the guy who is so well forgotten. You've heard of the outfit—it's the infantry. A lot of people take the infantry as the lowest branch of the army and the dumbest guys are in it. Maybe that's true.

"But why does everybody wait for the war's end? It's not only the air corps or the air-borne outfits. How about the outfit that's chased the Jerries way up in Northern France, in Normandy, and now in Southern France. You've read about the divisions being veterans from Italy. Those divisions are crack outfits and they are the infantry (dogfaces).

"After each attack we can't do like the air corps and go back to our field and sleep in a bunk, eat good meals, or complete 50 missions and go home. We're on the line from two months to four. After every attack we have something to look forward to, the next attack, and we try and get some sleep in the Foxhole Palace with dirt walls, no roof and some times we have fresh water to lay in. After 50 attacks, not missions, we go and make 50 more.

"Another incident! After our hospitalization from wounds we have received we go to a camp for returning to our outfits. One night a bunch of air corps guys came over to that camp to go home. They'd completed 50 missions. Anyway, they didn't have enough cots for them. Where could they get 'em? Some jerk of an officer woke up our little infantry and artillery men and said that a bunch of fellows needed their beds and they had to sleep on the ground so they could get used to it again because they were returning to their fox holes again, while those other men were going home.

"They never got my bed I assure you. I had a little trouble over it but it was well taken care of in a few seconds or should I say minutes. He finally decided to let me have my cot. This may be criticized by many fellows but I have thousands of ground troops, the cream of the crop, to back me up. This is one incident out of maybe hundreds but all of it proves that who ever has a son, brother, father, uncle in the infantry, don't give 'em glory, just a few prayers and a little encouragement.

"Jerrie knows our infantry quite well. Ask him about the Red Bull Division, the one I'm in. Ask him about the T Division, the blue and white striped patch, the thunderbird, the F. S. S. F. regiments and he'll pull the hair out of his head. That's why they're being pushed back in Italy, France, and Russia, Yugoslavia, and now in Southern France and in the Pacific, including our gallant guys in the marines. This is not a story, it's true facts and there's a little saying in unity there is strength.

"This little letter may be criticized by many but let them. All the rest that have had any experience on the line will back it up.

"Keep sending the Enterprise. I like it. It reminds me of the day when all the guys come home from all over the world."

His address is Pfc. Melvin W. Beese, 36642798, APO 34, % PM, New York, N. Y.

No. Carolina

Home for a few days from Camp Butner, N. C., is Robert Reed of Arlington Heights. Bob is stationed at Butner with a medical detachment of the combat engineers. He expects to remain there until September 20.

Texas

From Fort Sam Houston, Tex., comes word of Wally Linneweh of Palatine.

"Been a long time since I last wrote your column. Suppose most of my friends think I'm still over seas. I came back on the rotation plan, after 2 months in the Southwest Pacific. While over there I never ran into any one that I knew in civilian life.

"I took part in three major campaigns. I was in New Britain when I found out I was going back to the States. That was the best news I ever got. Arrived in the States June 23. After a 23 day delay en route, I reported down here. This fort is near San Antonio.

"Saw the Alamo and a lot of other historical places. This fort is o. k. but I know of a better place I'd rather be. But, till then I'd just as soon spend my time fighting the battle of Texas. Won't be here very long, cause this is just a reassignment center.

"I'll take this opportunity to say Hello to all my friends in the services, and wish them all the best of luck, for I'm sure they may need it.

"I always look forward to receiving the Palatine Enterprise so keep up the With Uncle Sam column. It's sure good to hear from the rest of the boys and to read of the other fellows' experiences."

His address is: Cpl. Wally Linneweh, Co. 7, 38188U, SPRC, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

Now at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, a replacement center, are Sgt. William Payne and Pvt. Kurt Kraft, both of Prospect Heights. Both have seen foreign duty. Bill was in India for over a year and Kurt saw action in Italy.

Their addresses are: Sgt. William H. Payne, Jr., Co. 2, S. P. R. C., Ft. Sam Houston, Texas; Pvt. Kurt Kraft, 36629884, Co. 10, Bks. 1342, S. P. R. C., Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

Panama

Corporal Marshall Balling of Wheeling had a pleasant surprise when he ran across Seaman Norman Bucher (Wheeling) in a coastal city of Panama recently. Norman was on a two day shore leave. During the course of their visit Norman said his twin boys were a month old before the news of their arrival caught up with him.

Given discharge

Honorable discharge from the army was given Sunday to Bruce Clark of Arlington Heights. Bruce was stationed at Tonkawa, Oklahoma, prisoner of war camp, serving as a transportation man with the railroad.

Mr. Clark had been in service 21 months, the last 14 at Tonkawa. Previous to his enlistment he worked for the Chicago Northwestern railroad. He plans to return to that company.

Harry Jaegermann of Wheeling returned to civilian life last Friday after receiving a medical discharge from the navy. Harry had been stationed at Great Lakes where he had spent the greater part of two months in the hospital. An injury to his foot failed to respond to treatment and was responsible for his discharge. Harry held the rating of MM1/c since completing his boot training at Camp Peary, Va.

Italy

Pvt. Eric Johnson, husband of Mrs. Alice Johnson, 7 Ridge ave., Prospect Heights is now in Italy, according to word received by his wife, who had to wait five weeks before receiving any word from him after he had gone overseas. He entered service on January 27 of this year and before embarkation, was stationed at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Now stationed in Italy is Roy Garlisch of Arlington Heights.

Nurse tells of rainy life in New Guinea

Nurse Lieutenant Evangeline Jamison of Chicago writes this week from New Guinea, telling of the work at a hospital there. She is a cousin of "Mr." Eleanore James, whose wife is co-editor of 'Life With Mother' column appearing in this paper.

"At last I have time to settle down to write you a letter. The 13th has moved again, hence a new address—it must seem to you that this happens to me oftener than any of your G. I. boys and girls.

"I do appreciate receiving the paper, more than I could ever tell you. Mail was held up for about six weeks then we moved this time—so when the day arrived when I received eight of them in one mail, I was almost in a state of elation. The paper means so much to me—partly because of course, it tells me the happenings of my own family, in the 'Life With Mother' column.

"Our camp is still in the progress of being built. Seems we can never keep a group of engineers with us long enough to finish anything. This has necessitated a lot of former Chicago doctors becoming carpenters, draftsmen, sanitary engineers, etc. If the folks back home could only see them now! But despite all this—we do have several hundred patients, which are housed mostly in ward tents.

"Supplies are coming in to us in more abundance and variety now. We have had fresh meat several times and once had fresh celery and tomatoes. We have all planted gardens to remedy this lack of green foods. I don't believe anyone fully appreciates a fresh, crisp vegetable until they are compelled to go without them for a while.

"We are located on the water's edge. Have both coral and sand beaches—which we do enjoy no end. The weather is alternately extremely hot or rainy. Each storm we have we think is second to none other.

"They always bring both humor and tragedy it seems. During one of them, a couple of weeks ago, five of our officer huts were washed out to sea and were last seen several miles down shore. Of course too, at these times, the roads become literally a sea of mud and all the bridges are washed out. The bad factor about this is that the base, where all our supplies come from, is about 20 miles distant.

"Most of this is probably a repitition of what you have already heard about New Guinea, for lots of your Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect lads have been here—and undoubtedly keep you posted.

"Thank you again, Mr. Paddock, for your weekly morale booster. It really is that, over here. Hope that we will all be back home, before too many more months elapse—and when that day comes, would like to meet you, and to tell you how much all of us appreciate your part in the war effort."

Her address is Lt. Evangeline Jamison, N-771428, APO 322, Unit 1, % PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Alaska

Lt. Theodore C. Meeker of Prospect Heights will have something to tell his grandchildren about that will have nothing to do with heroic deeds in battle, even though this event took place during World War II. For Lt. Meeker was on hand at Kodiak, Alaska, when President Roosevelt made his tour recently.

According to a letter received by his wife, Ruth, who lives in Prospect Heights, he said they all knew something very important was about to happen and that the president would make a tour of the base. Men were put on 24-hour guard duty a week in advance and the place was a veritable beehive of activity getting ready for the president's visit. Lt. Meeker, who is with the communication and code division of the navy at Kodiak, stood right next to the president, but did not have occasion to speak with him.

Lt. Meeker, is one of two men who are now stationed there, all that remains of the original 39 men who went there when he did in January of 1943. Most of these men have been transferred, while others have been discharged from active service. After 18 months of service a transfer is made, and Lt. Meeker expects his transfer to another base soon.

Cocoanut gains new life in Arlington

Latest story of the hot spell recently concluded in this area is that of a South Seas cocoanut coming out in full bloom. The cocoanut, sent to William "Stubby" Meyer of Arlington Heights, has produced a stem that has grown about five inches in the few weeks it has been in Arlington Heights.

It was in May or June that five Arlington men stationed in the New Hebrides got together for a talkfest and "bull session". Included in the group were Ray Meyer, Harvey Klehm, Bob Malzahn, John Pielosky and Louis Brodnan.

Meyer, Klehm and Malzahn sent the colorfully illustrated cocoanut to Ray's dad with their names appropriately engraved. A week after it was put on display in "Stubby's" tavern on the east side of Arlington, the small sprout appeared.

As weeks passed the stem took on new life and headed for the ceiling. Thus far, it has gone but five inches, but at present "rate of climb" will eventually reach that ceiling.

California

From Fort Scott, California, comes word of Joe Urick of Arlington Heights.

"Congratulations on your With Uncle Sam's special edition. I thought it extra good. You sure had plenty of letters in it. My cartoons sure reproduced fine.

"Things around here are about the same. I have a job painting murals for the Sunday school room, also the new boy scout room.

"Editor of the San Francisco Call Bulletin phoned for an interview. He evidently saw some of my cartoons. After loking over my samples he offered me a position after the war. Am undecided as what to do. If he moved the Call Bulletin to Illinois I'd take it."

His address is Cpl. J. A. Urick, Hq. Btry. 6th CA, Ft. Scott, California.

Corporal and Mrs. Ted Scanlon of Wheeling surprised their parents last week when they came home on a two-week's furlough. Corporal Scanlon has been stationed at Camp Roberts, California, since entering the service ten months ago. He received the rank of corporal in April.

His wife has been employed at the station hospital at Camp Roberts. There was a double celebration at the Scanlon home on Tuesday when they entertained in honor of Cpl. and Mrs. Scanlon and their father, Walter Scanlon's birthday.

Home on leave this week is Ensign Paul J. Bratt, Willow rd., Prospect Heights, who has just completed his naval indoctrination course at Plattsburg, New York. He will leave for San Francisco, Cal'f., where he has been temporarily assigned.

Texas

From Galveston, Tex., comes word of Butch Jahrling of Arlington Heights.

"Nice and warm down here, with a tough course ahead of me. Hope I can make it. Got to do plenty of crammin' these days for tests.

"Recently flew up to Memphis for an hour's stay, and then back again. Hope to hitch a ride to Chicago one of these days. Saw Steve Brodnan of Arlington Heights at Houston the other day and had quite a session with him."

Home for a week after a period of training at Camp Crowder, Missouri, is Wilbert Becker of Arlington Heights. Cpl. Becker was scheduled to leave again this Thursday to report to Camp Howze, Texas. Future plans indicate overseas for his signal tng. corps.

Mississippi

Changing his address again is William Jensen of Palatine.

"Have always enjoyed the Enterprise and don't want to miss any copies. Please note my new address."

His address is Maj. Wm. A. Jensen, Hq. 3rd TAD, Key Field, Meridian, Miss.

Nurse tells of rainy life in New Guinea

Nurse Lieutenant Evangeline Jamison of Chicago writes this week from New Guinea, telling of the work at a hospital there. She is a cousin of "Mr." Eleanore James, whose wife is co-editor of 'Life With Mother' column appearing in this paper.

"At last I have time to settle down to write you a letter. The 13th has moved again, hence a new address—it must seem to you that this happens to me oftener than any of your G. I. boys and girls.

"I do appreciate receiving the paper, more than I could ever tell you. Mail was held up for about six weeks then we moved this time—so when the day arrived when I received eight of them in one mail, I was almost in a state of elation. The paper means so much to me—partly because of course, it tells me the happenings of my own family, in the 'Life With Mother' column.

"Our camp is still in the progress of being built. Seems we can never keep a group of engineers with us long enough to finish anything. This has necessitated a lot of former Chicago doctors becoming carpenters, draftsmen, sanitary engineers, etc. If the folks back home could only see them now! But despite all this—we do have several hundred patients, which are housed mostly in ward tents.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Alois Tins, who passed away one year ago today.

The blow was hard,
The shock severe,
We never thought his death so near;
The loss of one so good and rare
makes our burden harder to bear.
Only those who have lost can tell the pain of parting without farewell.

Loving Wife and Children. *

Georgia

Aviation Cadet Earl Heverly, Jr., is home on a 21 day leave, his first since joining the navy on August 10, 1943. He is the son of the Earl Heverlys on Dundee rd., west of Route 83.

Earl has just completed his preflight training at Athens, Ga., and when his leave has expired, he will return there for a six weeks post graduate course before entering primary training.

Washington

From Whidbey Island, Washington, comes word of Bill Hartmann of Palatine.

"Have just received your latest edition of the Palatine Enterprise, and I want you to know that I have appreciated very much. This last edition I'm sure all the rest of the boys and women who are in the service besides myself will all be looking forward to get this week's copy as all the rest of them. I look forward to getting mine every week right around Tuesday or Wednesday of each week. It sure is great reading. I share my paper with the fellow I had mentioned in one of my other letters. We both enjoy it very much. Hope it keeps coming in just as it has been.

"We're having a little bad weather up here lately. In the morning we have quite a fog that rolls in from the sea. This makes it quite difficult for our fliers here. The most common plane we have here is the PV-1, but then we have TBF's, a few B-26's, and SNB-2C's. These are our most common planes here. Today the weather is very bad for flying, so there's no flying today.

"I have been hearing from a lot of the boys I played basketball with. I don't get very much time to write to them but want them to know I appreciate their letters very much. As soon as I get some time I write them, but time always seems so short. These last few months I don't even know where they have gone to. The fellow formerly from Heights is still here with me. He's the only one I've met from close to our hometown.

"I heard from Charles Bock the other day. He says he hasn't met anyone up there from home as yet. They sure have our fellows spread out.

"Had some good news the other day from my brother. He writes that he expects to be home for this next Christmas. Sure hope he can make that date. Wish it was possible to get there myself, but the way things look it's going to be impossible. Don't know just how much longer I'll be here. Am hoping though I get my advance training of radio school in good old Chicago. Still waiting to be transferred back there."

His address is Bill Hartman S1c, USNAS, Box B-3, Whidbey Island, Washington.

Home on emergency leave from Fort Lewis, Washington, is Edwin Niemeyer of Arlington Heights. Cpl. Niemeyer arrived Sunday night and is scheduled to return to Lewis Sept. 7, where he is stationed with the engineers.

Texas

From Camp Maxey, Texas, comes word of Elmer Herrick of Arlington Heights.

"I want you to know that all of us appreciate the space you devote to our letters, even though we don't always remember to tell you so! As you know, I had a two-weeks furlough the last of June and first of July, but spent practically all of my time with my parents in Downers Grove.

"It's dry here, too, and coming back to camp from bivouac to showers and clean clothes was sure a wonderful feeling. Walking along the dirt roads in the field, the dust was over my ankles and even walking in the grass beside the road kept you in a cloud of the stuff. It's been hot and the combination of dust and heat really get you dirty.

"We went swimming a few times in the Red River and that was grand—fine sand bottom, water shoulder deep and very warm. Also had all the watermelons we could eat. A farmer brought in a load most every night—fine large melons, dead ripe, for 50c. Several of us would buy one and have a feast. They have 2 kinds, the familiar red center and one with yellow meat. The yellow, I believe, is sweeter but doesn't look as appetizing."

His address is Cpl. Elmer Herrick, Btry. C 664 FA Bn., Camp Maxey, Texas.

Home for 15 days from North Camp Hood, Tex., is Bill Annen of Arlington Heights. Bill arrived home Friday and is scheduled to be back in camp September 8. Major Annen is still with the tank destroyers at Hood. He doesn't know about his future plans, as much of North Hood is being closed.

New Guinea

Pvt. Roger Rockenbach of Wheeling is still stationed in New Guinea where the weather is wet, muddy and hot as usual. He has been kept very busy and finds it hard to have time to do much writing but is always glad for news from home.

Need more C-54c after Hitler falls

It was "press relations day" at the Douglas plant, Mannheim and Higgins roads Friday when army officials entertained members of the press, stressing the need for continued production of the C-54 planes.

Even after the defeat of Germany in Europe has become an accomplished fact, there will be a continuing need for heavy cargo aircraft to speed the successful prosecution of the Pacific war against Japan. The C-54 is slated to play an increasingly important part in our program to completely smash the Axis.

"Regardless of the date of termination of the war in Europe, the AAF will continue to need large transport and cargo airplanes like the C-54," Brig. Gen. O. R. Cook, Chief of the Production Section, AAF Material Command, said.

Gen. Cook pointed out that even if Germany surrendered tomorrow the war in the Pacific would necessitate continued production at the Douglas Chicago Plant and in other plants making similar large cargo planes which are as important in the Pacific Theater as they are in Europe.

It Happened Here

We have invited the evening primrose into our garden where it lifts tall, golden candles among the bronze daisies, candles that flicker and dance in the lightest breeze and glow for our delight before the dawn; a flock of robins, russet and red, deploy at the lower end of the lawn, "forty feeding like one;" they assemble before early daylight and spread out with the effect of grazing and their carefree manner denotes that the dire necessity of procuring rations for a hungry brood is past, one may now enjoy the pleasures of the epicure at a well spread table; they gambol and seem to share in relaxation of borders, high tide is ebbing. In the early morning light with two-by-fours of sunlight on the grass, this small patch of lawn becomes a happy playground where our small friends disport themselves; the bluejay comes to glean the kernels dropped from the cob squirrel stole from the patch; while he is there, squirrel freezes on top of the fence post until a deliberate swoop of blue dislodges him. There is such a lift in the morning air that the squirrel is inspired to antic tricks despite the jay; he jumps to the lawn bench, then to the grass, leaps a good eight feet straight up, turns a complete summersault in the air, pounces on an unseen prey, repeats the performance, seizes a brambly stick and lying on his back worries it as a cat would, tossing it in the air and catching it; the circus has come to town and we have a performing squirrel, admission free. . . We have been reading of a man whose chief characteristic was that he suffered fools gladly; no address or telephone number given.

He's the only one I've met from close to our hometown.

"I heard from Charles Bock the other day. He says he hasn't met anyone up there from home as yet. They sure have our fellows spread out.

"Had some good news the other day from my brother. He writes that he expects to be home for this next Christmas. Sure hope he can make that date. Wish it was possible to get there myself, but the way things look it's going to be impossible. Don't know just how much longer I'll be here. Am hoping though I get my advance training of radio school in good old Chicago. Still waiting to be transferred back there."

His address is Bill Hartman S1c, USNAS, Box B-3, Whidbey Island, Washington.

Home on emergency leave from Fort Lewis, Washington, is Edwin Niemeyer of Arlington Heights. Cpl. Niemeyer arrived Sunday night and is scheduled to return to Lewis Sept. 7, where he is stationed with the engineers.

Texas

From Camp Maxey, Texas, comes word of Elmer Herrick of Arlington Heights.

"I want you to know that all of us appreciate the space you devote to our letters, even though we don't always remember to tell you so! As you know, I had a two-weeks furlough the last of June and first of July, but spent practically all of my time with my parents in Downers Grove.

"It's dry here, too, and coming back to camp from bivouac to showers and clean clothes was sure a wonderful feeling. Walking along the dirt roads in the field, the dust was over my ankles and even walking in the grass beside the road kept you in a cloud of the stuff. It's been hot and the combination of dust and heat really get you dirty.

"We went swimming a few times in the Red River and that was grand—fine sand bottom, water shoulder deep and very warm. Also had all the watermelons we could eat. A farmer brought in a load most every night—fine large melons, dead ripe, for 50c. Several of us would buy one and have a feast. They have 2 kinds, the familiar red center and one with yellow meat. The yellow, I believe, is sweeter but doesn't look as appetizing."

His address is Cpl. Elmer Herrick, Btry. C 664 FA Bn., Camp Maxey, Texas.

Home for 15 days from North Camp Hood, Tex., is Bill Annen of Arlington Heights. Bill arrived home Friday and is scheduled to be back in camp September 8. Major Annen is still with the tank destroyers at Hood. He doesn't know about his future plans, as much of North Hood is being closed.

New Guinea

Pvt. Roger Rockenbach of Wheeling is still stationed in New Guinea where the weather is wet, muddy and hot as usual. He has been kept very busy and finds it hard to have time to do much writing but is always glad for news from home.

Need more C-54c after Hitler falls

It was "press relations day" at the Douglas plant, Mannheim and Higgins roads Friday when army officials entertained members of the press, stressing the need for continued production of the C-54 planes.

Even after the defeat of Germany in Europe has become an accomplished fact, there will be a continuing need for heavy cargo aircraft to speed the successful prosecution of the Pacific war against Japan. The C-54 is slated to play an increasingly important part in our program to completely smash the Axis.

"Regardless of the date of termination of the war in Europe, the AAF will continue to need large transport and cargo airplanes like the C-54," Brig. Gen. O. R. Cook, Chief of the Production Section, AAF Material Command, said.

Gen. Cook pointed out that even if Germany surrendered tomorrow the war in the Pacific would necessitate continued production at the Douglas Chicago Plant and in other plants making similar large cargo planes which are as important in the Pacific Theater as they are in Europe.

It Happened Here

We have invited the evening primrose into our garden where it lifts tall, golden candles among the bronze daisies, candles that flicker and dance in the lightest breeze and glow for our delight before the dawn; a flock of robins, russet and red, deploy at the lower end of the lawn, "forty feeding like one;" they assemble before early daylight and spread out with the effect of grazing and their carefree manner denotes that the dire necessity of procuring rations for a hungry brood is past, one may now enjoy the pleasures of the epicure at a well spread table; they gambol and seem to share in relaxation of borders, high tide is ebbing. In the early morning light with two-by-fours of sunlight on the grass, this small patch of lawn becomes a happy playground where our small friends disport themselves; the bluejay comes to glean the kernels dropped from the cob squirrel stole from the patch; while he is there, squirrel freezes on top of the fence post until a deliberate swoop of blue dislodges him. There is such a lift in the morning air that the squirrel is inspired to antic tricks despite the jay; he jumps to the lawn bench, then to the grass, leaps a good eight feet straight up, turns a complete summersault in the air, pounces on an unseen prey, repeats the performance, seizes a brambly stick and lying on his back worries it as a cat would, tossing it in the air and catching it; the circus has come to town and we have a performing squirrel, admission free. . . We have been reading of a man whose chief characteristic was that he suffered fools gladly; no address or telephone number given.

Engineers return from Alaska highway job

Charles Lytle of Palatine sends a communique from Camp Livingston, Louisiana, on the occasion of the third anniversary of the activation of the 73rd engineers. The letter is a story of the work of the 73rd in building the Alaska highway.

Though Charles was not in the 73rd at that time, he is now and was a member of the 89th engineers doing the same type of work at the same time as the 73rd.

Veterans of one of the great engineering projects of this war, the Alaska military highway, the 73rd Engineer Company, (LP) Camp Livingston, celebrated its third anniversary of activation by tuning up for a fighting future.

The 73rd wandered into the heat of this Louisiana summer following more than a year of working on the Alaska military highway, where the outfit lived in temperatures which at times plunged to 60 and 70 degrees below zero. They used only tents for shelter during this time.

Pontoon work is the chief stock in trade of the 73rd, which has bridged no less than a dozen rivers in Canada and Alaska. The 73rd also operated ferry crossings where swift streams made floating or fixed spans impracticable.

It was on April 9, 1942, that the 73rd landed at Skagway, Alaska, from the United States. They remained on foreign duty until July 3, 1943. During that 15-month stretch they worked over the 1,100-mile of the Alaskan highway. At times the company was spread out over the entire length of the huge project.

One Man Lost

In spite of back-breaking and at times dangerous work the 73rd lost only one man during its tour of duty along the Alaskan highway. The man was killed when a jeep overturned.

At the moment the outfit is taking more or less of a break from bridge building, getting in only an occasional lick because of the shortage of suitable streams in these parts. However, there is plenty of other training on which the members are getting a workout. The engineers have it tough, especially when they are specialists at bridging streams.

Pontoon bridges are thrown up as soon as the infantry has seized a bridgehead on the opposite side of a river. As often as not the bridge is put together under enemy fire. It is not at all unusual for the engineers to drop their tools and pick up their guns and fight for room in which to work.

Can Switch Jobs

The men all know the other fellow's job and in the event of casualties the smooth team-work necessary for quick construction goes on without interruption as the men interchange places.

Officers and men of the 73rd have perhaps the largest number of headaches of any unit of comparable size in Camp Livingston. They have their bridges, work tools, personal equipment — and weapons. The company is self-contained, too, as far as transportation goes.

Many a broad river or swift-flowing stream stands between the United States and final victory. The engineers are expected to bridge them—quickly.

His address is Pfc. Charles W. Lytle, 73rd Engrs. Co., Camp Livingston, Louisiana.

Texas

Marvin E. Homeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Homeyer, 307 West Wing Street, Arlington Heights, has been enrolled as a student in the Instructors Indoctrination Unit at the Galveston Army Air Field, Galveston, Texas. The school, utilizing the skill and knowledge of veterans in aerial warfare, trains combat men to serve as instructors at various crew training bases throughout the country.

Overseas for 19 months, S/Sgt. Homeyer participated in missions against the enemy in the Central-Pacific Theater of Operations. He flew as a gunner and aerial photographer to win the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

He attended local schools and before entering the service at Camp Grant on October 31, 1941, he was employed by Enterprise Builders in Chicago. The sergeant returned to the United States on June 1, 1944.

Pacific

Pfc. Merwin Bokelmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bokelmann, who reside at 38 East Chicago St., Roselle, is now engaged in his first campaign against the enemy at an island outpost in the Southwest Pacific.

Bokelmann is a member of a battle-wise infantry regiment that is now undergoing its second major campaign. The regiment was the first army unit to offensively engage the enemy on any front during this war. Landing, and fighting side by side with the Marines at Guadalcanal, the regiment received the Presidential Unit Citation for its heroic actions there.

Pfc. Bokelmann has one brother in the service, Stanley Bokelmann, who is serving with the Air Corps in New Guinea.

The Americal Division to which Bokelmann belongs, is the only combat division bearing a name instead of a number, deriving its destination from a combination of "America" and "New Caledonia" an Island which it occupied before the Japs could get there.

Maryland

From Fort Meade, Md., comes word of Bill Milligan of Arlington Heights.

"Went into Baltimore Sunday to look the place over. It's not a bad town. Hope to get into Washington, D. C., next week-end if I'm still here. This camp doesn't seem to know there is a war on. Even the MPs take off at noon Saturday. It's a marvelous change from Wolters."

His address is: Sgt. Wm. Milligan, Co. D, 3rd Bn, 1st Repl. Reg., AGFRD No. 1, Ft. Meade, Md.

Oklahoma

From Norman, Oklahoma, comes word of Frances Schneberger of Arlington Heights.

"The anniversary edition just arrived and what a copy. I really appreciated getting it and finding out what has happened to all the kids I went to school with.

"I've been down in Norman for nine weeks and have sixteen more to serve. Came down for 21 weeks in AMM school but that month of mess duty ran it up in a hurry. I expect to graduate about December 9, so will be home on furlough at Christmas. I could go for a little A. H. weather about now. It isn't terribly hot really but it's the type of heat that gets you down.

"Have seen a couple of people from Arlington down here. Saw Eunice Eich in Oklahoma City last week end and it was a bit of a surprise to both of us. Also met Bob Schwolow over in the slop-chute the night after he arrived in Norman. Seems good to see a familiar face."

Her address is (Pvt.) Frances Schneberger, Bks. 160, MADNATTC, Norman, Oklahoma.

Veterans of one of the great engineering projects of this war, the Alaska military highway, the 73rd Engineer Company, (LP) Camp Livingston, celebrated its third anniversary of activation by tuning up for a fighting future.

The 73rd wandered into the heat of this Louisiana summer following more than a year of working on the Alaska military highway, where the outfit lived in temperatures which at times plunged to 60 and 70 degrees below zero. They used only tents for shelter during this time.

Pontoon work is the chief stock in trade of the 73rd, which has bridged no less than a dozen rivers in Canada and Alaska. The 73rd also operated ferry crossings where swift streams made floating or fixed spans impracticable.

It was on April 9, 1942, that the 73rd landed at Skagway, Alaska, from the United States. They remained on foreign duty until July 3, 1943. During that 15-month stretch they worked over the 1,100-mile of the Alaskan highway. At times the company was spread out over the entire length of the huge project.

One Man Lost

In spite of back-breaking and at times dangerous work the 73rd lost only one man during its tour of duty along the Alaskan highway. The man was killed when a jeep overturned.

At the moment the outfit is taking more or less of a break from bridge building, getting in only an occasional lick because of the shortage of suitable streams in these parts. However, there is plenty of other training on which the members are getting a workout. The engineers have it tough, especially when they are specialists at bridging streams.

Pontoon bridges are thrown up as soon as the infantry has seized a bridgehead on the opposite side of a river. As often as not the bridge is put together under enemy fire. It is not at all unusual for the engineers to drop their tools and pick up their guns and fight for room in which to work.

Can Switch Jobs

The men all know the other fellow's job and in the event of casualties the smooth team-work necessary for quick construction goes on without interruption as the men interchange places.

Officers and men of the 73rd have perhaps the largest number of headaches of any unit of comparable size in Camp Livingston. They have their bridges, work tools, personal equipment — and weapons. The company is self-contained, too, as far as transportation goes.

Many a broad river or swift-flowing stream stands between the United States and final victory. The engineers are expected to bridge them—quickly.

His address is Pfc. Charles W. Lytle, 73rd Engrs. Co., Camp Livingston, Louisiana.

Texas

Marvin E. Homeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Homeyer, 307 West Wing Street, Arlington Heights, has been enrolled as a student in the Instructors Indoctrination Unit at the Galveston Army Air Field, Galveston, Texas. The school, utilizing the skill and knowledge of veterans in aerial warfare, trains combat men to serve as instructors at various crew training bases throughout the country.

Overseas for 19 months, S/Sgt. Homeyer participated in missions against the enemy in the Central-Pacific Theater of Operations. He flew as a gunner and aerial photographer to win the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

He attended local schools and before entering the service at Camp Grant on October 31, 1941, he was employed by Enterprise Builders in Chicago. The sergeant returned to the United States on June 1, 1944.

Pacific

Pfc. Merwin Bokelmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bokelmann, who reside at 38 East Chicago St., Roselle, is now engaged in his first campaign against the enemy at an island outpost in the Southwest Pacific.

Bokelmann is a member of a battle-wise infantry regiment that is now undergoing its second major campaign. The regiment was the first army unit to offensively engage the enemy on any front during this war. Landing, and fighting side by side with the Marines at Guadalcanal, the regiment received the Presidential Unit Citation for its heroic actions there.

Pfc. Bokelmann has one brother in the service, Stanley Bokelmann, who is serving with the Air Corps in New Guinea.

The Americal Division to which Bokelmann belongs, is the only combat division bearing a name instead of a number, deriving its destination from a combination of "America" and "New Caledonia" an Island which it occupied before the Japs could get there.

Maryland

From Fort Meade, Md., comes word of Bill Milligan of Arlington Heights.

"Went into Baltimore Sunday to look the place over. It's not a bad town. Hope to get into Washington, D. C., next week-end if I'm still here. This camp doesn't seem to know there is a war on. Even the MPs take off at noon Saturday. It's a marvelous change from Wolters."

His address is: Sgt. Wm. Milligan, Co. D, 3rd Bn, 1st Repl. Reg., AGFRD No. 1, Ft. Meade, Md.

Oklahoma

From Norman, Oklahoma, comes word of Frances Schneberger of Arlington Heights.

"The anniversary edition just arrived and what a copy. I really appreciated getting it and finding out what has happened to all the kids I went to school with.

"I've been down in Norman for nine weeks and have sixteen more to serve. Came down for 21 weeks in AMM school but that month of mess duty ran it up in a hurry. I expect to graduate about December 9, so will be home on furlough at Christmas. I could go for a little A. H. weather about now. It isn't terribly hot really but it's the type of heat that gets you down.

"Have seen a couple of people from Arlington down here. Saw Eunice Eich in Oklahoma City last week end and it was a bit of a surprise to both of us. Also met Bob Schwolow over in the slop-chute the night after he arrived in Norman. Seems good to see a familiar face."

Her address is (Pvt.) Frances Schneberger, Bks. 160, MADNATTC, Norman, Oklahoma.
